ARRESTS ARE MADE BY THE WHOLESALE

Dozen Men Accused in Coal Stealing Traced to Rushville by Big Four Detective

NINE OF THEM HELD IN JAIL

Shortage in Coal Shipments Leads to Investigation Which Centers
in This City

What is termed by local officers as being a wholesome roundup of coal thieves, was started Monday evening in Rushville, when twelve arrests were made, and 9 of the alleged members were sent to jail to await a hearing in the circuit court. Further arrests were promised in connection with the thieving, the officers stated.

Those placed in jail late yesterday on the charge of larceny gave their names as follows: William Beard, Carly Gard, Dan Hampton, Harold Case, Pet Bright, Ed Borem, Dewey Ferguson, Gilbert Martigson, and Will Hendricks. The three who were also arrested were Fred Smith, Clifford Lee and Fred McCarty.

The arrests were brought about by the work of Captain Neal, Big Four railroad detective, who has been here several days investigating the theft of coal from trains passing through Rushville, and the affidavit against the dozen men, charges them with the theft of the specific amount of four tons of coal.

According to the officers, the railroad has been missing coal from shipments, and the detective stated that he traced the thieving to this city, and has been watching the local yards for some time.

It is said that Hampton was arrested first in connection with the affair, and although it was not stated that he made a confession, yet the officers said that one of the men accused, made a clean sweep, and has implicated others, who will be arrested.

When Detective Neal learned of the names, he was assisted in the arrests by Sheriff Hunt and Patrolman Lakin, and the nine were placed in custody late yesterday.

Four or five of the arrested men were arranging bonds this afternoon, which were placed at $500 by Judge Sparks. It was expected that some of the others would give bonds before night. The men will not be expected to enter a plea, it is expected, until Thursday.

According to the officers, it has been a habit with some people to obtain their winter's coal from the railroad. The officers state that as trains pass through here, all of which made one or two stops, that

MOB HANGS STRIKER TO RAILROAD TRESTLE

Outgrowth of Attempt at Harrison,
Ark., to Drive Striking Railroad

NO ARRESTS AFTER HANGING

(By United Press)

Harrison, Ark., Jan. 16.—A mob of one thousand angry residents of Harrison hung E. G. McGregor, a striking railroad shop worker today from a high trestle near here. The mob sought to drive striking shop workers from the city following a campaign of sabotage against the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad.

The posse visited McGregor's home and demanded he surrender. His reply was a revolver shot which wounded one of their number. McGregor escaped from his home in a hailstorm of bullets, but was overtaken near the city limits. The mob left his body hanging from the trestle and it was not cut down for several hours.

Authorities had made no arrests during the morning although the mob continued to mill through the streets, rounding up strikers for questioning in connection with recent burning of bridges on the road.

FINDS 1 DEFENDANT GUILTY

Jury Acquits Earl Clevenger, But
Sentences His Brother

Fred Clevenger, Jr., was convicted of the larceny charge in the circuit court late Monday, and his younger brother Earl Clevenger was acquitted by the jury which heard the case filed jointly against them. The jury imposed a fine of $1 and costs and a sentence of 30 days in jail, against the older brother. The decision of the jury was not reached until about six o'clock last night. The charge was for the theft of meat from a slaughter house.

The defendant was permitted to go on bond until Wednesday, when he is to appear in court, and receive the sentence from Judge Sparks. His bond of $1,000 was given.

RESOLUTIONS ARE READ AT FUNERAL

County Board Of Education Regrets
Untimely Death Of Charles V.

TRUSTEES ATTEND IN A BODY

Services For Late Trustee Of Center
Township Held This Afternoon
At Shiloh Church

Resolutions expressing regret of the county board of education at the untimely death of Charles W. Griffin, late trustee of Center township, who was fatally injured at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing in Dunrieth Saturday afternoon, were drawn up by a special committee from the board and read at the funeral services, which were held this afternoon at Shiloh church, north of Mays.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Latell of Indianapolis and burial took place in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Members of the county board of education, with the exception of John C. Power of Anderson, who was unable to attend, attended the funeral in a body and were accompanied by Birney D. Farthing, county superintendent of schools; Phil Wilk, county auditor; James Miller, county attendance officer, and Samuel H. Young, county commissioner.

Mr. Power was unable to serve as a member of the resolutions committee and George Hardesty, trustee of Orange township, was appointed in his place. Other members of the committee are: Jesse Brooks of Union township, chairman, J. Hampton Reeves of Posey and Henry W. Beckner of Jackson. The resolutions adopted are as follows:

In Behalf of Our Friend, Charles W. Griffin—

Whereas, our friend and co-worker Charles W. Griffin has suddenly been taken from among us by an untimely death, and whereas, though our association and friendship as County Board of Education had been only of a few weeks duration, yet the intimate relation held with him during that time makes it highly befitting that we recover our appreciation of him; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the wisdom, inspiration and service, which he had so kindly offered will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a friend and member from our Board, leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply felt by all members and friends of the Board, and will prove a serious loss to the community, as well as township and county.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved wife of the deceased, the relatives and friends of Charles, we express an earnest hope that even so great a loss to us may be overruled for good by Him who knows best.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the records of the Board of Education, a copy printed in the county paper, and a copy given to the bereaved wife.

Committee,

JESSE BROOKS.

WOULD HAVE BIBLE READ IN SCHOOLS

Bill Introduced In Legislature Makes
Reading Of Ten Verses Every

OTHER MEASURE PRESENTED

Minority Report Of Budget Committee Recommends Limit On Reformatory Appropriation

(By United Press)

Indianapolis Ind., Jan. 16.—Ten verses of the Bible would be read in every school of the state every morning before regular educational exercises are begun, under the provisions of a bill introduced in the legislature today by Representative Livingston of Bruceville, a coal miner. It would forfeit licenses of teachers failing to obey its provisions.

Others bills presented to the legislature included:

1.—Eugenic measures requiring people to have health certificates before marrying, introduced in the house by Dr. J. N. Hurty, former secretary of the state board of health.

2.—Dunes park bill appropriating $500,000 for the purchasing of not less than 1,500 acres of dune land in the Calumet by the conservation department and two members of the legislature introduced by Senators Brown and Hill.

3.—Repealing the act establishing joint commissions with the state of Illinois for the construction of a harbor in Lake county, introduced by Senator Hays.

The father of any child born out of wedlock who fails to support it or pay expenses of medical attention to the mother at birth would be liable to a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment, included in a bill introduced in the house by Miss Elizabeth Rainey.

Giving the state board of agriculture power to negotiate loans by Representative Thomas.

Recommendations that the appropriation for completion of the new reformatory at Pendleton be limited to $750,000 instead of $2,000,000 as asked by Governor McCray and that numerous other reductions be made in the state's expenses were contained in a minority report of the budget committee submitted to Governor McCray today.

The report was signed by Senator Walter S. Chambers and Representative John W. Kitch, democrat members of the committee.

"We cannot reconcile ourselves to the appropriation of $2,000,000 in

EFFORTS TO REPEAL PRIMARY ABANDONED

For Party Nominations Withdrawn in Senate

BILL PENDING IN THE HOUSE

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16.—Efforts to repeal the Indiana primary election law were abandoned today in the legislature.

Senator Penrod of Loogootee, a republican, withdrew his repeal bill which has reposed in committee since its introduction.

The measure met with a storm of opposition from friends of the primary system who rallied to its rescue when repeal was first threatened.

A repeal bill is still pending in the house but it may also be withdrawn by the author.

Governor McCray, United States Senator James E. Watson and other G. O. P. party leaders were reported to have urged the repeal. It was also approved by democratic party leaders, but both parties were bombarded with complaints and protests from members within their own ranks and some women of the state who declared their enfranchisement would be lost if the system of nominating party candidates was restored to conventions.

HOPE TO MAKE UP SEALS SHORTAGE

Psi Iota Xi Sorority Members to Conduct Exchange in Effort to Reach County Quota

TOTAL RECEIPTS $1,762.14

While Sales Increase $179.12 In Rushville, Townships Outside City
Show Loss

A final report on the Christmas Seals campaign, made public today, reveals that $1,762.14 was realized from the sale of Seals and Health Bonds in Rush county, which is about $38.00 short of the county quota of $1,800.00, and in order to make the allotment, the Psi Iota sorority, which was in charge of the sale will hold an exchange next Saturday.

Contributions of food to the exchange will not be restricted to members of the sorority but will be welcome from anyone who is interested in seeing Rush county maintain its past record and raise its quota in the Seals campaign. Those who wish to assist in the effort may notify Mrs. Alfred Norris and members of the sorority will call for food that is to be given for the exchange.

A compilation of the 1922 record shows that Posey and Anderson township were reversed in the last campaign, Posey taking the lead away from Anderson township with receipts amounting to $62.10. Anderson township was second, however, with sales amounting to $58.58.

The success of the campaign in Posey, according to the township chairman, was due largely to the efforts of Miss Marian Tittsworth in the Arlington school. She conducted contests among the school children which served to stimulate the sales. Orange, Washington, Richland

BLAMES PARENTS OF HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Edna Miller Seeks To Recover
Damages For Alleged Alienation
Of Miller's Affections

Plaintiff Maintains Burton And Myrtle Miller "Poisoned" Son's
Mind Against Her

A law suit, involving daughter-in-law against her parents-in-law, with the demand for $10,000 judgement, got underway this morning in the circuit court, with Mrs. Edna Miller as plaintiff, and Burton and Myrtle Miller, defendants, the cause of action being for alleged alienation of affections.

The plaintiff, who before her marriage was Edna Hardin, daughter of Joe Hardin of Posey township, married Virgil Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Miller, farmers of Walker township, and the plaintiff alleges that her separation from her husband was caused by the father and mother of her husband.

She maintains that they "poisoned" their son against her, and caused them to become separated, and that because of the interference with their married life, she was humiliated suffered mental agony and disgrace, and that the affections of her husband were alienated.

The jury which was secured to try the case, is composed of Walter Crull, Fred Martin, Ed F. Moore, E. A. Sears, Roy Hall, Oliver Earnest, Jake Wynn, Will Morris, Gilbert Cooley, Jeff Leisure, Ed L. Reeve and George Seeley.

The case was expected to require at least two days for trial, as many witnesses were summoned by each side. Mrs. Miller, the plaintiff, was the

Gen. Maginot Reports French Troops Fired on Germans at Bochum
When Attacked

ONE KILLED, TWO WOUNDED

French Troops Push Forward in Fan-like Area—Germans at Buer Stone Invaders

(By United Press)

Paris, Jan. 16.—Official announcement of the occupation of Dortmund by French troops was made today. The French line was further advanced to Horde. First military requisitions of coal were made this morning.

General Maginot reported to the cabinet official details of the trouble at Bochum at 7 o'clock last night.

"In rioting between German citizens and communists," Maginot reported, "one person was killed. Later a crowd of two thousand attacked French troops. The latter were forced to fire. One German was killed and two wounded by the volley. No soldiers were hurt. Drastic measures to prevent further rioting are in force."

By CARL D. GROAT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Jan. 16.—French troops in the Ruhr pushed further forward over a fan-shaped area today and it is believed the invaders will extend their occupation beyond the river Lippe as far as Hamm.

The outer area of the occupied area reached this forenoon passed through Reckhausen, Herin, Castrop and Bercham. Complete occupation of Dortmund was expected to be announced at any moment.

Germans at Buer stoned French troops as the latter marched into the town.

The French general in command ordered his soldiers to shoot if the attack was repeated. The police chief was ordered punished for the outbreak.

Uprisings throughout West Phalia and the Ruhr were feared momentarily as the temper of both invaders and civilians became uglier with an increasing number of incidents such as this. Agitation was under way in Bavaria to create a new "anwohnerwehr" (citizen guards), hitherto forbidden by the allies.

It is indicated that the occupation will include virtually all of

VISION, FORESIGHT, CONFIDENCE NEEDED

Cited as Necessary Requisites to Get on in World And to Better Civilization

ADDRESS TO ROTARY CLUB

The need of vision and foresight, a confidence in the future, and faith in one's fellowman were emphasized as necessary requisites to get on in the world and do the utmost possible to better civilization, the Rev. E. Richard Edwards of Logansport told Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon today at the Social club.

The Rev. Mr. Edwards is here conducting special meetings at the Main Street Christian church. He asserted, in his brief but very impressive talk, that men need only two motives, really, in order to accomplish the best results in their chosen work—something to reach out after and something to get away from.

Illustrating with a story that a dog can only go half way into the woods, until he is coming out, the speaker said that prospects were fast growing better and that "we were coming out" to a greater era and a better and improved civilization.

Other guests present at the meeting were the Rev. L. E. Brown, pastor of the Main Street Christian church; Rush G. Budd of Newcastle, formerly of this city; Donald McIntosh of Indianapolis, and Lowell M. Green, Jr., of this city.

NEW LIQUOR BILLS FOR LAW MAKERS

Six Measures Presented All Of Which Aim To Make Indiana Drier,
By Better Laws

INCLUDE STIFFER PENALTIES

First Offense Also Includes Jail Sentence
Intoxicated Auto Drivers Bill
In Hopper

Indianapolis, Jan. 16. —Drinkers of hip liquor in Indiana looked toward the legislature today and sighed. In an effort to make Indiana drier, the reformers have presented six bills to the law makers. They carry the endorsement and warranted the active support of the Indiana Anti Saloon League.

"I don't know of any other measure which the Anti-Saloon League will have introduced in the legislature said E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the league.

"The penalties must be stiffer. There are too many ways to evade officials and too many violators get by. Then penalties must be high enough to touch violators who have cleaned up fortunes in their illicit business.

"There is a bootlegger in Indianapolis who has made $75,000 from sale of his wares. Another has made $25,000."

About eight percent as much liquor is being sold now as before prohibition became effective, he said.

"Now the liquor comes in by satchel and by truck load," Shumaker declared. "It used to come by train load."

The bills now pending in the legislature aimed at liquor drinkers and bootleggers are aimed to make violations of the prohibition law punishable as felonies instead of misdemeanors. They provide:

1. A fine of $50 to $1,000 and imprisonment of not more than one year for possessing liquor containing wood alcohol.

2. A fine of $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment of one to five years for owning or operating a still.

3. Transportation of even a quart of liquor a felony punishable by imprisonment of one to five years and a fine of not more than $1,000.

4. Drunken automobile drivers shall be fined $200 to $500 for first offense and imprisoned for two to five years for second offense.

5. Makes a 30 day sentence on the penal farm compulsory for first offense bootleggers, adding a fine of $200 to $500.

6. Making it a felony to transport liquor in any vehicle that is mortgaged or not owned by the driver.

According to Halksworth Wheeler, F. R. P. CAPT. SKIPWITH TO FACE CHARGES

Will be Outgrowth of Inquiry in Morehouse Reign of Terror, Louisiana Official Says

PROBE BACK TO DIRECT CAUSE

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 16—Charges, providing capital punishment for conviction will be brought against Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan, and other members of raiding parties, as a result of the investigation of the Morehouse parish reign of terror, state officials declared today.

"The plan is to bring a charge of house-breaking at night against men who entered the home of Lon Brad-dock and seized him on a charge of bootlegging without a warrant", Attorney General A. V. Coco declared today. The charge carries the death penalty in this state.

Charges against others on similar grounds may be expected, Coco said.

With this announcement the state planned today to shift the investigation back to the direct cause of the probe, the brutal murders of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards by a hooded mob last August.

If I Had Some Spare Office Space—

If I had some spare space in my office which I could not use, and perhaps a desk and chair, I would soon set them to work and have them help pay my rent.

I could easily get this desk space rented with a Daily Republican Want Ad. This is such a capital and perhaps unthought-of idea that I would telephone right now and get my ad in tomorrow's paper.

Of course, I would have to advertise in the Daily Republican because it is a progressive paper that takes an interest in building up its Classified Section. People who buy it have the Want Ad reading habit.

DRASTIC STEPS TO PREVENT RIOTING

Rhenish west Phalia's mining region, representing about three fourths of the whole German out-pat. This will take French troops into the heart of the west Phalia region.

The first bloodshed of the occupation at Bochum where French troops shot down German civilians yesterday, killing one and wounding others is feared in Berlin to be but preliminary to further casualties throughout the occupation zone.

Reports of the shooting at Bochum yesterday are conflicting. Some reports say there was a clash in the streets between German communists and re-actionaries, not directed against the French, who either mistook the character of the demonstration or considered they had to take over the duty of restoring order when local police proved useless.

Just as this first sign of rising tide of tempor among the invaders is believed to presage serious trouble for civilian populations of the Ruhr so are the bitter feelings of the German citizens cropping out. These were indicated when Germans at Steele tore down a French military flag and shredded it to ribbons. The mayor of the town was forced to answer for the insult.

It is freely predicted that inside a month the bloodiest guerilla warfare will devastate the Ruhr valley. Especially will this be inevitable Germans say if the French invaders endeavor to force the miners to "slave labor."

The German government is apparently adamant on the subject of withholding coal deliveries from France. It was permitted to be known today that the Cuno administration will not negotiate with the French on this point as long as the Ruhr is occupied. As the French have made it clear, occupation of the Ruhr is to force satisfactory negotiation and coal deliveries, the situation seems completely deadlocked.

The question of coal deliveries and requisitions was expected to reach a final show-down this afternoon at a meeting called by General De-goutte at Dusseldorf.

Operators and mine-workers were to attend. It was understood the French general, commanding the Ruhr army of occupation, wished to explain Premier Poincare's requisition orders to the Germans at first hand.

Chancellor Cuno held a long conference this morning with Herr Stutz, German coal commissioner but no communique was issued. Later Stutz in a statement to the United Press, expressed confidence the operators of the Ruhr would obey his orders, and make no coal deliveries to France or Belgium. Lacking official information as to Poincare's orders and plans, Stutz is puzzled as to whether the French intend to seize the Ruhr mines and endeavor to operate them with guards at the pit heads, or to seize money destined for the workers. In either case, he predicts quick stagnation should the French alter normal transport.

"Under the present extravagant plans, it would take still another $1,000,000 to complete the situation and possibly $2,000,000 making a total cost of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 when the reformatory is completed."

The report declares that tile floors have been provided for engine rooms and that floors have been elevated to accommodate pipes. At declares the industrial buildings will cost $150,000 each as compared with $25,000 for similar building at the state prison. The reformatory, the report declared, is costing $3 a square foot of floor space while the state prison cost forty cents. The minority also referred sarcastically to the $80,000 cost of plans and specifications and $30,000 paid the architect for supervision.

Other features of the report were:

- 1.—Refusal to sign the budget for banking and insurance departments which it declared could be combined with the auditor's office at a saving of $75,000 a year.
- 2.—Recommendation that the offices of reporter and clerk of the supreme court be combined, as recommended also by Governor McCray.

REFUGE, STRENGTH, HELP:
God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.—Psalm 46: 1.

Tax Free Securities

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has advanced a course of action which is sure to meet with the approval of the rank and file of the American people when he urges that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the state legislatures barring the further tax exemption of securities by congress.

During the war there was an excuse for the exemption from income and surtaxes of the various government bonds floated for the purpose of providing funds with which to carry on the conflict. Tax exemption provided a means of making an issue of government bonds especially attractive and their ready sale at a high figure was assured.

The coming of peace has changed all this. There is no longer any excuse for permitting the issuance of tax free securities. The exigencies of the war period are over and the only effect of issuing tax exempt securities now is to encourage tax dodging. By means of tax exempt securities a man of wealth is able to so invest his money that he is untouched by the government taxing machinery, while a less fortunate individual, working on a salary, is obliged to pay to the federal treasury a stated portion of his income.

Tax exempt securities had their place in the wartime scheme of things. Their place has disappeared, however, and if congress senses the will of the people aright it will act on Secretary Mellon's recommendation.

Is It On The Wane?

Is the Christmas spirit waning?
It probably is.
This would be a beautiful world if we could continue the holiday spirit from Christmas to Christmas, and from the beginning of life to the end.

But that would banish grafting, and thievery, and thuggery, and murder, and scandal, and all of the other cherished ills that afflict mankind.

Yes, the Christmas spirit is waning—it is disappearing—it will soon give place to the one with which we are all more or less familiar.

We can not be angels without wings, and life is too short to grow them.

One of Opportunities

The new year will be one of opportunities.

Business will be good. Some even say it will be exceptional.

Agriculture will forge ahead.
New inventions and ideas will be developed.

Transportation facilities will be improved and enlarged.

The interests of the shipping industry will be promoted.

Factories will hum with life.

The builder's hammer will be noisy with renewed activity.

Everybody will have an opportunity to work.

And saving will become easier.

Somewhere in this scheme of things there is a place for you.

Hunt it—fill it—do something for others, as well as for self.

By so doing you will justify your existence.

The most aggressive of Europe's political powers—which oddly enough have for some time now been also the most earnest pleaders for financial aid from outside the old world—have differing views as to how help should be given.

France wants aid for herself, but deprecates possible efforts at re-juvenating German finances. Germany will accept favor from any land but particularly from quarters which shall not tie her up more securely to serving France in the future. Great Britain would like to have her debts to America forgotten, but it is doubtful whether English philanthropy is equal to viewing with equanimity so much aiding of France as might

All Europe, lately warswept and still so needy of financial succor, is voicing two cries: That aid shall speedily come, and that it shall come according to the specific program offered by each pleading power.

It is a state of affairs almost impossible to comprehend to the degree of evolving a satisfactory solution.
France begging for American aid at the same time speaks bitterly of rumors that America plans to do thus and so. It is no what France desires this country to undertake. And everywhere else we turn, the situation is much the same. How can elements who cannot be content if all are served with equal justice?

Big Circuit Owners Complain About Poor Patronage by Fans During The Season Last Year

BALL PLAYERS TO SUFFER

Are Reducing Salaries of Many Players, Citing Poor Business as Reasons For It

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Jan. 16.—Business wasn't so good around the major league circuits last year. The pennant winning clubs and several of the western teams made money but the usual bumper crops of cash weren't general by any means. At least the magnates would have that believed.

The result is very few raises for the poor ball players. Several of the club owners will ask their athletes to suffer along on a small stipend until things "get better". Others who can afford their usual payroll may do the same thing to feel out the new union.

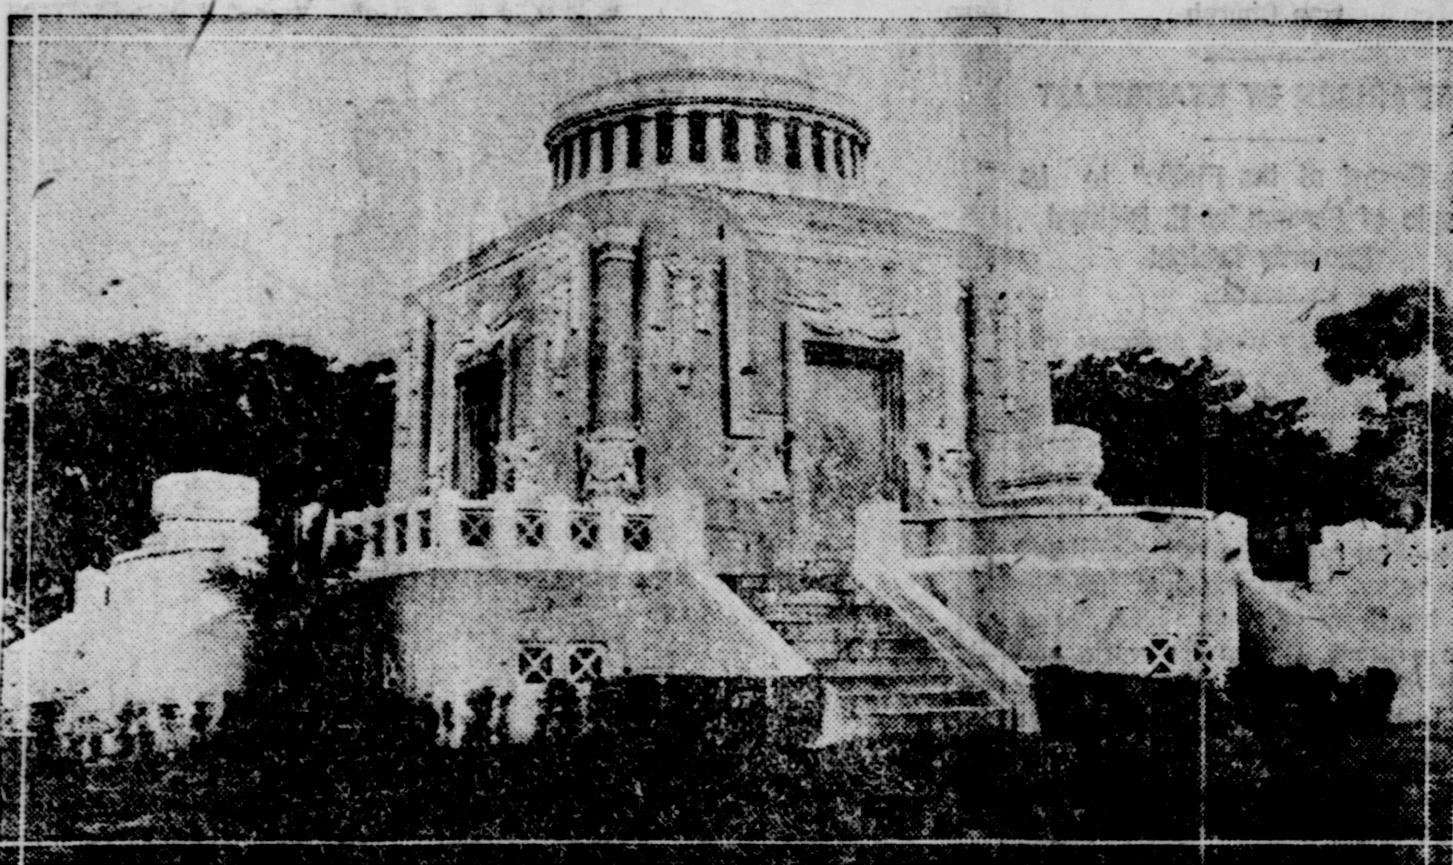

Whatever the reason, the wave of economy which has brought the majors and the minors to the point of open war no doubt will result in a great epidemic of holdouts as soon as the athletes get their contracts. The club owners are waiting until the last minute to send out new contracts to prevent the union members getting together and comparing notes on the various salaries offered.

The usual threats of retiring to private business instead of playing ball are being made. Jake Daubert, Cincinnati Red infielder, has officially announced himself as ready to enter the coal business if he can't get $10,000 a year and George Mogridge, Washington pitcher, is looking for other business.

Dutch Reuther, accused by Squire Ebbets of being the prime mover in the baseball player's union, is holding out for $12,000 and Zach Wheat, Andy High and several others on the Brooklyn Robins are not content with what they have been drawing.

John McGraw seldom has trouble with his players. The Giants are generous and the boys are all satisfied with their places. The Yanks are the most liberal spenders in baseball, but the Yankee owners are going to reduce salaries this year. Colonels Ruppert and Huston are not hard-up but they are going to take a crack that way against several of the fancy-priced players who looked like ten cents a dozen last season and during the world's series.

A HOSPITAL FOR SICK FANS

The Columbus high school athletic board is planning a basketball clinic, to be held in that city in the near future, provided that there is enough interest taken in the proposed affair. As Hittin' 'em understands the thing, it is proposed to stage a basketball game, and all of the fine points of the game are to be explained to the fans who are on hand. For instance, when a foul is called, the referee is to announce and explain why he called it, and all of the rules are to be explained as the game is in progress. The real idea is to educate the fans and school officials. Thirty letters have been sent to towns surrounding Columbus, asking them to send representatives to the clinic.

Hittin' 'em would suggest that the referee who was here Friday, could do a lot of explaining on some of the fine points in the game.

WE BET THEY WOULDN'T LAST FIVE MINUTES

An enthusiastic reader of Hittin' 'em and Missin' 'em, hailing from southern Rush county, offers the following: "We suggest a team made up of Rush county coaches. There is Jones of Rushville, weight over 200; Shell of Carthage, 185 pounds; Beasley of Milroy 230 pounds; Means of Moscow, 230 pounds and McPherron of Raleigh, 210 pounds." Hittin' 'em agrees that the combination looks good on paper, but just how good they'd look on the floor is a different proposition. If you can get them together, we'd like to see 'em practice.

SHOOTIN' AT HITTIN' 'EM

Another fan, coming from the same locality, and who signs his message, "Shootin' at Hittin' 'em" warns us to look out for the county dark horse. He says "it hails from the banks of Flat Rock. Yes Moscow high has finally started." He also adds the following: "Suppose Talbert of Webb and Gosnell of Moscow were on the same team; then add Cowan of Milroy."

WOULDN'T LET 'EM WIN TWELVE STRAIGHT

There must be something in that Moscow stuff. They didn't have much trouble in stopping Mt. Auburn Saturday night, and defeated them 28 to 16. Mt. Auburn had a chance to make it their twelfth straight, but Moscow wouldn't let 'em.

HERE IS ROBINSON AGAIN

Robinson, center on the Connersville team, is sure poison for all teams that they meet. In the game Saturday with Brookville, Connersville came out ahead in easy fashion, 44 to 20. Robinson caged 7 field goals, and scored 11 times from the foul line.

You Rushville basket squad better lay for that man Friday night, or else you will find yourself in the small end of a big score.

FOR MEN ONLY

Richmond entertained several teams at an all day tourney last Saturday. Guess who won? Richmond of course, and they defeated Liberty 38 to 8 in the final game.

It won't be so easy to guess who will win the Rush county tourney, scheduled for Rushville February 3, according to all of the "dark horse" timber which is being flung into the ring.

Coach Staggs of Anderson,
Has a speedy bunch,
And take it from us—
We've got a hunch!

SOMETHING YOU DIDN'T KNOW MOSCOW HAS A SECOND TEAM, WHICH ALSO IS WINNING SOME GAMES.

Phillips of Rushville, is the scoring man, counting 26 points in the last two games played, in which the locals had totalled 50 points.

Rushville has one thing to be thankful for at least. We are not like Indianapolis, and have four high schools which fail to check up victories.

LET YOUR GRADES COME FIRST

Friday ends the first semester, and report cards will be given out. Examinations will be under way Wednesday and Thursday, and the line-up of the two local teams may be changed. Some of the players who fell below in their grades might be back in the game Friday, and some of the old players might be out. Study hard, gang, your studentship is worth twice as much as your playing ability.

We're gonna to pick Anderson.

S. S. TEAM WINS GAME

Russell Titsworth's Sunday School basketball team of the Main Street Christian church, defeated a team of boys from the Webb school, at Webb, Monday night, by the close score of 13 to 12. John Wyatt, for the winning team, was the main point getter.

Five Which Had Ambition to Take

WINNERS SHOW SUPERIORITY

The Moscow high school basketball team ruined the chances for a twelfth win for Mt. Auburn, Saturday night, when they defeated the Shelby county team, 28 to 16. The game was a battle from the start, but Moscow showed marked superiority throughout. I. Hungerford and Tillison played a defensive game, often times adding a punch to a newly constructed offense.

An entirely new combination was used by Moscow and points by Gosnell, Coleman and B. Hungerford soon put the game away. At half time the score was 16 to 9. In a preliminary game the Moscow second team defeated Waldron seconds, 15 to 7. Moscow journeys to Newpoint Friday, and will probably play Sandusky at Blue Ridge Saturday night.

The line-up and summary:
Moscow 28 Mt. Auburn 16
Coleman ..... F ..... Iron
Crane ..... F ..... Wertz
Gosnell ..... C ..... Chesser
Tillison ..... G ..... Snyder
I. Hungerford ..... G ..... Young

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean white ointment made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts. Seldom fails to deliver results. 35c and 65c jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

SPORT CHATTER

Chicago. — Jimmy Blouin, world's bowling champion, retained the title by defeating Joe Falcato, New York, 9,112 to 8,247 pins in a forty game match. Blouin won the final ten games 2,169 to 2,121. The champion averaged 227 32-40 for the match, a world's record.

Boston. — Negotiations with the Baltimore International League club for a deal by which the Boston Red Sox will give two players and $40,000 for two of the trio of Oriole stars—Max Bishop, Johnny Boxley or Merwin Jacobson, will be completed today, the Red Sox office announced.

New York.—Johnny Rawlings isn't on the market and he will not be traded, John McGraw manager of the Giants, replied to a rumor that the utility infielder was going to Brooklyn for Leon Cadore.

New York. — Chicago has re-opened negotiations with the Yanks for a trade involving Eddie Collins, the Yankee office said. The New York club wants to give Ward and Muesel to the White Sox for Collins Falk and Leverett.

New York. — Jess Willard may be permitted to box in New York if he will make an affidavit that he is only 36 years old and get one from a member of his family, according to the boxing commission. He will not be permitted to fight Jack Dempsey however, without engaging in two "test bouts."

Chicago. — "Scissors Joe" Strecher, Nebraska, heavyweight wrestler will meet Yousiff Hussane, Turk grappler, in an old-fashioned wrestler to the finish match here Monday night.

REPRESENT THREE PRESENT DAY TYPES

Persons Cured by Miracles in Bible Days Subject of Sermon at Christian Church

COMPARISON BY EVANGELIST

"The Gospel of the Fields" to be Topic of Sermon by E. Richard Edwards Tonight

A fine Monday night audience enjoyed another one of the excellent sermons at the Main Street Christian church by the Rev. E. Richard Edwards on "Three Miracles Representing Three Types".

The first was the man afflicted with palsy, rendering him helpless and hopeless only as help came from without. It was the work, and faith of his friends that brought him to the healing touch and power of Jesus.

"So today many are palsied by the power of sin and must be helped to Christ," said the evangelist. "It is our duty to bring them to Him that they may be healed of the paralysis of sin. The second was the man with a withered hand. He was fifty per cent efficient. His case was not as bad as the other yet he needed the healing ministry of Jesus."

"This man represented the moral man out of Christ. Such a man was Cornelius of the Bible, a good, devout, praying, alms-giving man but was not saved and was instructed by Peter under the guidance of the Holy Spirit to tell him what he must do in order to be saved.

"The third type was the woman bowed with an infirmity for many years who received the healing touch from Christ the great Physician. So today there are many who are so bowed beneath the burdens of the world that they cannot stand erect and look up to behold the beauties and blessings of their Heavenly Father."

Tonight the theme of the sermon will be "The Gospel of the Fields". B. F. Miller rendered a very beautiful solo in his usual acceptable manner last night. Tonight Mrs. Alva Eakins will sing.

TODAY IN MUSIC

The Wagnerian opera festival with its entire company imported from Germany for the purpose met a serious reversal when the musicians union protested against the bringing to this country of the German orchestra. Accordingly, the plans were changed, and Leo Blech, chief conductor, sent one of his assistants to New York six weeks in advance of the opening performance for the purpose of recruiting and training an American orchestra. Blech also sent over a number of instruments required in the performance of some of the Wagner scores and which are not found in the usual symphony orchestra. The musicians' union pointed out that there are hundreds of capable orchestra players out of work and it would be base discrimination against American musicians to bring over a complete German orchestra. The singers are not affected by this dictum, however.

Rossini's opera "William Tell" has been "revived" at the Metropolitan after an absence of many years. A special set of scenery was painted by a prominent Italian artist and rehearsals were long in progress to make this presentation of Rossini's popular opera one of grandeur. The leading roles were sung by Giuseppe Danise, in the title role, and Messrs. Martinelli, Mardones and Didur. Rosa Ponselle and Marie Sanderius assumed the chief feminine parts.

Ernest Hatcheson, the pianist, is fast coming into his own as one of the really serious musicians. He is now giving in New York a series of fortnightly recitals, each one devoted to the works of some great master. He has thus far given Bach Beethoven and Chopin programmes, and the attendance has been surprisingly good, which may show that after all it is the music that appeals to the public rather than the interpreter.

Overcoat Prices Cut to the Bone

This has been the biggest overcoat season of our career. We never sold so many overcoats in one season. Wishing to make a clean sweep, we have slashed the price of every remaining coat unmercifully.

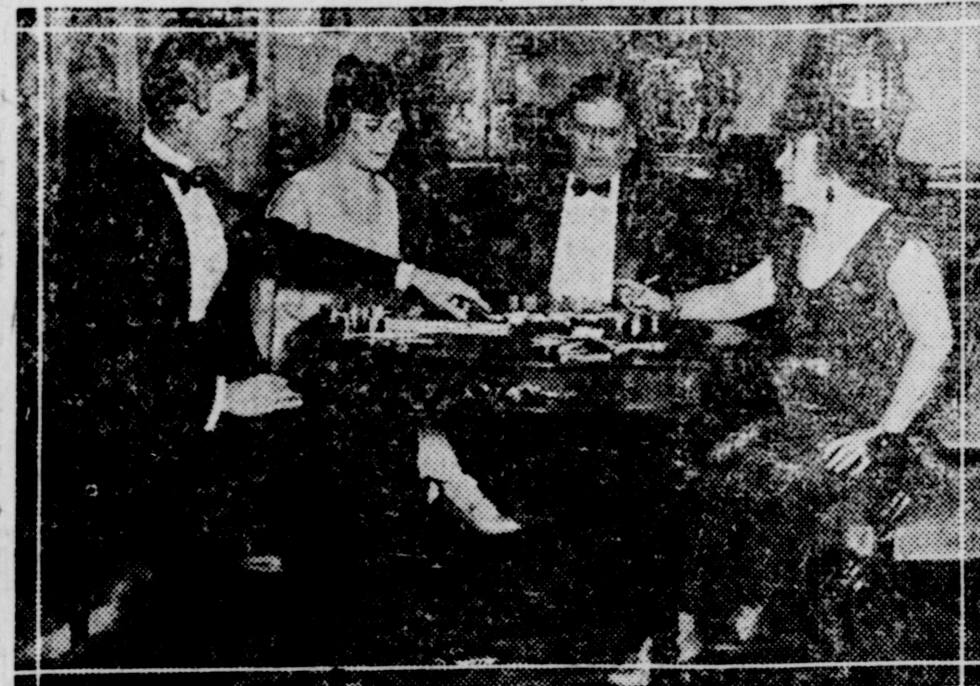

Not a coat in the house is a carried over garment. This is not an attempt to put over a lot of past seasons goods. All these coats are in the latest models and materials and of the best makes. In many cases there is but a single garment of the lot remaining. We wish to close them out quick. If you doubt our statements, come in and see our prices. They will convince you we are in earnest. See our windows—they tell the tale.

Prices as follows: $11.00, $13.50, $19.75, $16.50, $18.75, $21.50, $24.50, $28.75, $31.50 — Coats that sold up to $60.00

These prices will prevail until closing time Saturday, January 20th. These prices are for CASH ONLY.

SOCIETY LEADERS BRING CHINESE GAME TO NEW YORK

When Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oakes, leaders in New York society, returned from China, they brought with them several sets of the ancient game of "Mah-Jongg", a game played in China since the days of Confucius. The Oakes held a soiree in their New York apartment and initiated their friends into the mysteries and fascinations of the ancient game, which has never been played here before. So enthusiastic were the players that "Mah-Jongg" promises to be the leading game of the season. Photo shows an interesting group playing the game, left to right, Mr. Charles Oakes, Mrs. Frank Ludlam, Mr. Frank Ludlam and Mrs. Charles Oakes.

PLANS FOR REVIVAL TO START JANUARY 29

TO CONTINUE FOR 2 WEEKS

The First United Presbyterian church has arranged for two weeks of cottage prayer meetings to be held among the homes of various church members, in preparation for the revival meetings to be held in the church beginning January 29. The program for this week will be as follows:

Wednesday evening at the home of John Little, 1029 North Benjamin street, with the Rev. E. G. McKibben leader; and at Dr. Paxton's home, 333 West Seventh street, Mrs. Inez Craig leader.

Thursday evening will be the regular prayer meeting service at the church, the services beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

On Friday evening one of the prayer services will be held at the home of Steven Boyer, 837 North Oliver street, the leader being the Rev. E. G. McKibben; and at the home of Mrs. Inez Craig, 834 North Harrison street, Miss Anna Wait leader.

The public is invited to attend these services and especially the members of the church are requested to attend. The program for next week's cottage meetings will be announced later.

JOHN N. MEYER SUCCUMBS

Funeral For Farmer Will Be Held At Glenwood Wednesday At 2 P. M.

John N. Meyer, aged fifty nine years and seven months, expired at the late residence five miles southeast of Glenwood Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock, following an illness of a complication of diseases. The survivors are the widow, four children, eight grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Kate Schott of Indianapolis, and one brother, Frank Meyer of this city. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the Glenwood Christian church and burial will take place at the Orange cemetery.

The Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's Methodist church will serve lunch from eleven to one o'clock Friday January 19, at the church. The public is invited.

AMUSEMENTS

At The Mystic Today

Mark Twain's humor is largely based on incongruity and contrast. "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" of which the special William Fox film version is coming to the Mystic today is crammed with examples. It is said to be the funniest thing Twain ever wrote, yet it contains a carefully reasoned argument.

Mark never was at a loss for an answer. One day he was telling a group of friends about a wonderful lake he had seen in Colorado.

"The water is so clear," he said, "that you could see a ten-cent piece on the bottom at a depth of one hundred fathoms."

A stony silence followed. Mark glanced around.

Mystery Picture At Princess

The demand for mystery pictures is steadily increasing. They offer motion picture fans delicious thrills and expectancy and in these respects "The Young Diana," a Cosmopolitan creation released by Paramount starring Marion Davies which will be the feature at the Princess Theatre again today, ranks among the best productions of the current season.

In this picture Miss Davies is seen as a young English girl whose love romance with a titled naval officer seemingly is forever shattered. Life loses interest to her and she develops into a spinster whose future is dreary and hopeless. But she goes to Switzerland, where she encounters a mysterious alchemist who induces her to subject herself to a deadly experiment with the result that she emerges from the ordeal a wonderful beauty and soon becomes the rage of Europe. Then in a mysterious way she encounters her former sweetheart, and what happens later is told thrillingly in a series of remarkable scenes. Naturally, she finds love and happiness at last.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poisonings that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they head you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY! —at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with every meal!

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of "getting away" with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

PREMIUM LIST ANNOUNCED

Charles E. Watkins of Muncie and Charles J. Patterson of Tipton
Will Speak Second Day

Prizes aggregating $346.00 in cash, in addition to three silver cups valued at $90.00, will be awarded at the annual Rush county corn show, which will be held in the court house here Thursday and Friday, February 1 and 2, it was announced Monday evening following the meeting of the premium list committee.

It was also announced that C. E.
Troyer of LaFontaine, Wabash county, Indiana, corn king two years ago, had been selected to judge the corn in the Rush county show and award the premiums.

The premiums are announced in another column on this page.

There will be no program on the first day, aside from the judging of the corn, but on the second two speakers of ability, who are well known to Rush county farmers, will give addresses in the morning and afternoon.

The speaker at the morning session will be Charles J. Patterson of Tipton who is very popular among farmers here because of his keen insight into the farming business and his ready wit and ability as a public speaker. Mr. Patterson has ad-

42 Members in Baby Beef Club in Randolph County

What is said to be the largest beef calf club in Indiana was started recently at Winchester with 42 Randolph County boys and girls as members. Nineteen Herefords and 23 Shorthorns were distributed for feeding until next September when the contest ends with a show. The calves averaged 450 pounds and were a nice uniform lot, all sired by registered animals and out of purebred or high grade dams. County Agent R. A. Fields and Jesse L. Pike manager of the Winchester stock yards, will supervise the feeding efforts of the boys and girls.

dairy herd, recently finished a very good milk and butterfat record, producing in 365 days, 16,875.8 pounds

BETTER DAYS FOR THE FARMER AHEAD

One Big Idea Expressed At Annual Farmers' Short Course At Purdue Last Week

SPEAKERS EMPHASIZE IT

Although Attendance Was Short Of Last Year, 75 Counties Of State
Were Represented

There are better days ahead apparently for the farming interests of Indiana, during the new year than at any time for the last three years.
This was one big idea expressed by farmers and farmers' wives, economists, educators, and others on the program at the annual farmers' short course at Purdue University Jan. 8, to 12. The note of optimism was sounded more frequently at this course than at any of the last few years, because there were more figures on the prices of farm products, especially corn, with which to back up the statements.

The short course was very succe-ful and attracted men and women from seventy-five counties and six different states besides Indiana. The total enrollment however was not quite up to last year when a record of 1,500 was established. A heavy snowfall in many parts of the state cut this down. The state corn and potato shows were held during the week, along with annual meetings of the Indiana livestock and dairy organizations, corn growers, vegetable growers, and home economics associations.

In the state corn show, L. M. Vog-

COW TESTING IS VERY IMPORTANT

ASSOCIATIONS ORGANIZED

Each Year More Farmers Realize Value of Testing Association as Basis for Herd Improvement

The study of production records of large numbers of cows, made possible by the work of the many cow-testing associations that have been organized in almost every part of the country, has brought out a grist of information on the possibilities of dairy-cow improvement and on the efficiency of various methods and practices. The records of many thousands of cows have been gone over in the last few years by the United States Department of Agriculture.

From the lowest-producing group of cows to the highest-producing group every jump of 50 pounds in annual butterfat production was accompanied by an increase of about $16 in income over cost of feed. The more fat produced, the bigger this income. A few heavy producers are better than a larger number of light yielders.

The average production of the 21,234 cows whose 12-month records have been studied was 6,077 pounds of milk and 248 pounds of butterfat, or about 50 percent more than the average of all the dairy cows in this country. The records show that selection of animals and better methods of feeding raise average production rapidly during the first year or two that the cow-testing association is in operation, but the figures for subsequent years show small gains. This is proof enough that there is still much room for improvement in the breeding of cow-testing association cows.

Each year more farmers realize the value of the testing association as a basis for herd improvement. On July 1, 1922, there were in operation 513 associations, including 12,458 herds and 215,321 cows, as compared with 452 associations the previous year. Wisconsin and Minnesota, two of the greatest dairy States, showed great gains in testing associations. During the year the number in Wisconsin grew from 103 to 127, and in Minnesota from 23 to 37.

HOLSTEIN HEIFER HAS GOOD RECORD

therefore, the more remarkable because made by a Junior two-year-old heifer.

In making this record, this heifer qualified for the Holstein-Friesian Advanced Registry and it is interesting to observe that she made over twice the amount of butter fat required to make her eligible for this Registry.

She did not start her year's work with an unusually large production nor did she produce a large amount of milk for any short period but showed great persistency throughout the year and actually produced, during the month of her test, more milk than she had produced during any of the first six months. She indicated the very desirable characteristic of continuing high production throughout the entire year.

Through a considerable part of the time she was on test was of the spring and summer, pasture was not depended on to furnish much of the succulent part of her feed but she was fed hay, grain and silage throughout the year. She received a ration of alfalfa, hay, corn silage and grain mixture made up of four parts ground corn, two parts ground oats two parts bran, one part cottonseed meal and one part linseed oil and she was fed this grain mixture at the rate of one pound for each three and one-half to four and one-half pounds of milk produced per day.

But the most remarkable and the most significant part of this record is the excellent example it furnishes of "up-breeding" or breeding for increased production. The following figures show the production in 365 days of this heifer's granddam as a two-year-old, that of her dam as a two-year-old and her own production as a two-year-old.

	Milk	Butterfat
Granddam	10561.2	321.2
Dam	12962.5	396.8
Daughter	16875.8	544.8

From these figures it is seen that a big increase has been made in each generation and this in spite of the fact and that good production had been made by the dam and granddam for the production of the granddam as a two-year-old, is over twice the average production of milk cows in Indiana at the present time.

This heifer has recently freshened as a three-year-old and is producing 75 pounds or about nine gallons of milk per day. This good production would seem to indicate that she will continue to make proportional increases over the later milk and butterfat records of her dam and granddam.

Records of this kind and this record in particular, shows very clearly that the use of good sires, abundance

ler, of Hope, won grand sweepstakes honors on his ten ear sample of Johnson County white corn. His yield was better than 80 bushels to the acre for an 80 acre field, showing again that the famous Indiana show corn possess yielding ability second to none in the United States.

W. W. Stauffer, of Akron, the grand sweepstakes winner in the potato show, winning on a peck of Irish Cobblers, is one of the best potato growers in the state and has the state record for yield. He has an average of 305 bushels per acre for about ten acres each year for the last three years.

State club winners selected at the state show were: Mildred Cochran, Frankfort, in canning; Harriett McCutchan, Inglefield, in sewing; Virginia Vannice, Amo, in baking; Ruby Connaway, Connersville, in home

GIVE $2,670 TO HOSPITAL

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 16—Members of the Vincennes Rotary Club have subscribed a total of $2,670 to the building fund of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, now under construction in Indianapolis as a memorial to the celebrated Hoosier poet and for the care and treatment of sick and crippled Indiana boys and girls. Edgar N. Haskins, city superintendent of schools, is the local club chairman. Rotary clubs throughout the state are active in behalf of the hospital movement.

BREEDING FOR 200 EGGS

Better breeding methods is one of the most important factors for increased egg production. In order to breed poultry at least two pens are desired, one of which will be kept for the breeders. The other pen should have in it pullets that are kept primarily for eggs.

Only birds that are fit physically should be used to perpetuate their desirable characters in their offspring. Sick, undersized, undeveloped and deformed birds should be discarded. Hens and males with bright eyes, long wide backs, deep bodies and showing refined femininity or strong masculinity are greatly desired for breeders.

Exercise is a fundamental necessity to insure maximum hatchability of eggs.

In order to limit and to enhance the value of the male 15 to 20 females of the Leghorn type, 10 to 15 of Plymouth Rock type and 6 to 8 of the Brahma type should be mated to one male.

ACTION ADVOCATED TO REFOREST HILLS

Man Has Destroyed In Twenty Five Years What Nature Required Million Years To Build

HILLS NOW UNPRODUCTIVE

Richard Lieber States No Legislation Would Be Asked Of General Assembly In This Session

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16—Man has destroyed in twenty-five years what nature required a million years in building in Southern Indiana, Charles C. Deam, forester for the state department of conservation said today.

Down in the hill country of southeastern part of the state, people settled down, cut the trees which abounded there and left the soil devoid of fertility, Deam said.

The trees, Deam said, obtained a great amount of nourishment from the air and deposit it in the form of dropping leaves. The roots help to hold the nourishment. This fertile deposit of surface soil was built up slowly this way by plants in a million years.

"But man came along with his broad axe and felled the trees", Deam continued. "He then took away the fertile surface in the form of vegetables and grain which he shipped and pasture on which he fed his livestock."

"The rain aided him also in washing away some of the fertile substances that the tree roots no longer held. This took man about twenty-five years."

"Now people are living on this land and are 'property poor' because of its unproductiveness."

"Thousands of acres are going to waste in this manner every year."

Deam advocated state action to reforest the hills which are not producing grain now, but Richard Lieber, director of the department indicated no legislation would be asked of the general assembly in this session.

WEED CHATS WITH FARMERS

(Purdue University Agriculture Extension Department)
Cultivation vs. Weeds
By ALBERT A. HANSEN

Why does the farmer cultivate his land? Sounds like a foolish question, but perhaps the answer may be quite different from what you may suspect.

A few years ago the United States Department of Agriculture supervised a series of experiments designed to find an answer to this question. In each experiment, two similar plots of land were selected of the same size, soil type, etc. The seed bed was prepared in the usual manner, corn was planted and one plot was given the ordinary treatment characteristic of the locality in which grown. For instance here in Indiana the corn was cultivated about four or five times with an ordinary shovel cultivator. On the other plot, however, the land was not cultivated after seed bed preparation. Instead, the weeds were kept back by hand pulling, hoe-cutting or any other method that did not disturb the soil. How would you guess on the harvest? The surprising result was that in practically all cases the yield of the cultivated and uncultivated plots was the same. Over 100 experiments in 28 states were performed with corn and the average yield of the plots was practically the same. The experiments were continued for several years and still the same results were secured. Four of these experiments were performed in Indiana—three by farmers and one at Purdue. The four year average yield of the Purdue experiments was 57 bushels per acre on the cultivated plots and 56.3 bushels per acre on the uncultivated plots. The experiments were continued with other tilled crops and although the data has not been published, similar results were obtained.

What conclusion can we draw from all this work? The results indicate very strongly that after the preparation of the seed bed, the principal object of cultivation is the destruction of weeds. If this is true, then we should (1) regulate our cultivation according to the weed growth and not by the weather or any other standard and (2) we should design our cultivating implements to destroy the weeds.

We are hardly justified in making positive statements of so radical a nature when such statements are backed solely on plot experiments.
When we can report results on several hundred experiments, where each experiment represents a good sized field and where all types of soil are included, then we will be ready to accept this new viewpoint.
But the results of over 200 experiments are not to be ignored. Why not select two similar fields on your own farm and try the proposition out for your own satisfaction? The results may surprise you and save considerable work later on.

Reasons to Expect Better Things of Agriculture in '23

The farmer has every reason to expect still better things of agriculture in 1923, even though there are some dark spots, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace says in his survey of farming conditions for the present year. During the course of his remarks, he says:

There are still some dark spots. In some sections weather conditions were unfavorable and crops were short and farmers in these sections are having a very hard time of it.
Freight rates are still too high, especially for those who must pay for a long haul to market.

Taxes are high, but this is largely due to the interest in local taxes, over which farmers themselves must exercise control.

There has been gratifying growth in farmers' cooperative marketing associations, and more of them are being organized on a sound business basis.

Aside from the help which has been given by legislation and by administration activities, strong economic forces are at work to restore a more normal relation between agriculture and other industries.

The peril in the agricultural depression is more keenly realized by other groups than ever before, and on every hand a sincere desire is being evidenced to do what can be done safely to help the farmer better his condition.

Everything considered, we have good reason to expect still better things for agriculture in the year 1923.

Your Part In A Big Business

During November the five Producers offices (figures from Fort Worth offices are not available) handled $4,743,871.66 worth of live stock. The value of the live stock handled by the sixth office, Fort Worth, will easily bring this amount to $5,000,000.

Producer supporters should be proud of a volume of business of this amount. There are not many concerns in Chicago, or in any of the other large cities, handling such volume. Producers offices are heading the list in volume of business at all of the markets where they are located, excepting Chicago, and St.
Louis. (National Stock Yards, Illinois).

At Chicago, the Producers has been first in hogs for several weeks, and fourth in total business. At St. Louis, they have been running second.

The approximately five million dollars was entered upon 6,238 account sales, which would make an average of $760.48 per sale. We are glad to call attention to the fact that the average amount distributed to any one patron is $301.80 more than during September. The largest account sale was $6,808.98, and the smallest, exclusive of dead or crippled stock was $13.65. The total number of head handled is 246,105, and distributed among species as follows: Cattle, 10,949; calves, 8, 258; hogs, 212, 690; sheep, 14,208.

This total number of head of live stock handled by the Producers in one month, November, is almost equivalent to the total number of cattle received by the stock yards at Wichita, Kansas, during the entire year of 1921. If these animals were placed in cars, they would form a train a little more than 26 miles in length.

The printing and stationery used for letters and other records cost, during November, $1,768.81. To the stock yards at the five points, the producers paid $54,330.85, and as freight to the railroads, $161,482.22.
The employees handling this business totaled 124, which makes one employee for every 1,985 animals handled.

Give consideration to the above figures, tell your friends about it and let them see the size of the business which is yours.

BOMB WRECKS STORE

Chicago, Jan. 16—Several persons were thrown from their beds here today when a dynamite bomb was exploded in the grocery store of Nathan Friend. The bomb wrecked the store. Damage was estimate at $1,500. Police could assign no motive for the bombing.

PULASKI FOLKS WEED OUT INFECTED BIRDS

One of the most forward steps which has ever been developed for the poultry interests in Pulaski County is the testing of breeding flocks to detect carriers of bacillary white diarrhoea. This comes as a forward step in the wake of three years of poultry records which have been running in the county. A large number of flocks have demonstrated their ability to heap the egg basket and now that this has been shown, the owners are going farther and through co-operation with the Veterinary Division of Purdue University, are taking blood samples from each hen and breeding cockerel in the flock. These samples are given the agglutination test for bacillary white diarrhoea. The division then sends the results back to the owners and also a copy to the county agent. The agent expects to be present when these infected hens are shipped so he can make affidavit to the fact that the reactors have been thrown out of the flock. In this way, those who buy hatching eggs from these flocks next spring can be assured of getting eggs that will hatch into chicks that are free from infectious white diarrhoea.

ORCHARDISTS SHOULD EXAMINE TREES NOW

Branches, Especially Upper Tips That Cannot Be Reached By Spray Should Be Cut Off

URGE UNIFORM SPRAYING

Indianapolis, Ind. Jan. 16.—Scraggily branches as a rule are the ones missed in orchard spraying and for this reason it is frequently the case that anticipated results in fruit production are not obtained after extreme care apparently has been taken to spray against insect invasion and scale pests, declares Frank N. Wallace, entomologist for the state conservation department.

The season is here when orchardists should examine trees carefully and cut off branches, especially the tips of upper branches, if it appears they cannot be reached with sprays, Mr. Wallace says.

If all parts of the tree is sprayed uniformly there is little doubt but the crop will be augmented. Failure to spray scraggily branches leaves material upon which insects and scales may work to the detriment of production, he points out.

CASH AWARDS TO AMOUNT TO $346

Dressed many farmers' meetings in Rush county and he also lent his valuable assistance to the Rush County Farm Bureau in the membership campaign last December.

The speaker at the afternoon session will be Charles L. Watkins of Muncie, a social service worker who styles himself a "human engineer" and who has spoken in Rush county on many previous occasions, one of them at the Rush county chautauqua. Because of Mr. Watkins' wide appeal of farmers and his understanding of their problems, there was a universal demand that he be invited to speak at the corn show again this year, and he readily accepted the invitation.

The morning program on Friday will begin at 10:00 o'clock and will be held in the court house assembly room, and the afternoon program will begin at 1:00 o'clock.

The rules for the corn show provide that all corn entered for prizes shall be at the show by 10:00 a. m. of the first day, at which time the judging will begin.

There will be four classes this year—professional, county, township and junior, the first named having been added when the committees decided to open the competition to the world on the theory that Rush county farmers were not afraid to meet outside corn growers.

The cash prizes in the professional class amount to $81.00, in the county class $114.00, in the township class $81.00 and in the junior class $70.00. This does not include the $50.00 cup for the sweepstakes on the best ten ears, any color, or the $25.00 cup for the sweepstakes on the best single ear, any color, both of which are competed for annually.

A $15.00 silver cup was added to the junior class this year, to be competed for annually. It will be awarded as a sweepstakes prize for the best ten ears, any color.

MUCH INTEREST IN BEE CONFERENCE

entific and financial basis is a vital need at the present time. These problems may be best solved by a Short Course and Conference such as is planned and called for by the Indiana Beekeepers Association and the beekeepers of the state. The university authorities have been especially fortunate in securing some of the very best talent in the world," said Prof. J. J. Davis, head of the entomology department.

Dr. E. F. Phillips, an international authority on the handling of bees and in charge of the bee work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Geo. S. Demuth, Editor of "Gleanings in Bee Culture" and for many years a co-worker with Dr. Phillips will be present throughout the course to discuss the beekeepers' problems. Prof. H. F. Wilson, head of the entomology department of the University of Wisconsin and president of the American Honey Producers' Association, will also discuss problems of vital importance to every Indiana beekeeper. Others who are on the program include C. O. Yost, State Bee Inspector; W. A. Hunter, president of the Vigo County Beekeepers' Association; W. A. Price and J. J. Davis of the department of entomology, Purdue University. Besides the regular daily sessions, evening meetings will include an illustrated lecture by Prof. J. H. Skinner, Dean of the School of Agriculture, Purdue University, on Monday evening January 29, a beekeepers' banquet Tuesday evening and moving pictures Wednesday evening.

The Beekeepers' Short Course and Conference offers an opportunity of getting the best and latest information and ideas available on the successful and profitable handling of bees. A program and any other information needed will be mailed on request to the Department of Entomology, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

ARRESTS ARE MADE BY THE WHOLESALE

Detective

Shortage in Coal Shipments Leads
in This City

What is termed by local officers as being a wholesale roundup of coal thieves, was started Monday evening in Rushville, when twelve arrests were made, and nine of the alleged members were sent to jail to await a hearing in the circuit court. Further arrests were promised in connection with the thieving, the officers stated.

Those placed in jail late yesterday on the charge of larceny gave their names as follows: William Beard, Carly Gard, Dan Hampton, Harold Case, Pet Bright, Ed Boren, Dewey Ferguson, Gilbert Martgison, and Will Hendricks. The three who were also arrested were Fred Smith, Clifford Lee and Fred McCarty.

The arrests were brought about by the work of Captain Neal, Big Four railroad detective, who has been here several days investigating the theft of coal from trains passing through Rushville, and the affidavit against the dozen men, charges them with the theft of the specific amount of four tons of coal.

According to the officers, the railroad has been missing coal from shipments, and the detective stated that he traced the thieving to this city, and has been watching the local yards for some time.

It is said that Hampton was arrested first in connection with the affair, and although it was not stated that he made a confession, yet the officers said that one of the men accused, made a clean sweep, and has implicated others, who will be arrested.

When Detective Neal learned of the names, he was assisted in the arrests by Sheriff Hunt and Patrolman Lakin, and the nine were placed in custody late yesterday.

Four or five of the arrested men were arranging bonds this afternoon, which were placed at $500 by Judge Sparks. It was expected that some of the others would give bonds before night. The men will not be expected to enter a plea, it is expected, until Thursday.

According to the officers, it has been a habit with some people to obtain their winter's coal from the railroad. The officers state that as trains pass through here, all of which made one or two stops, that

Jury Acquits Earl Clevenger, But
Sentences His Brother

Fred Clevenger, Jr., was convicted of the larceny charge in the circuit court late Monday, and his younger brother Earl Clevenger was acquitted by the jury which heard the case filed jointly against them. The jury imposed a fine of $1 and costs and a sentence of 30 days in jail, against the older brother. The decision of the jury was not reached until about six o'clock last night. The charge was for the theft of meat from a slaughter house.

The defendant was permitted to go on bond until Wednesday, when he is to appear in court, and receive the sentence from Judge Sparks. His bond of $1,000 was given.

County Board Of Education Regrets
Untimely Death Of Charles V.
Griffin, A Member

Services For Late Trustee Of Center
Township Held This Afternoon
At Shiloh Church

Resolutions expressing regret of the county board of education at the untimely death of Charles V. Griffin, late trustee of Center township, who was fatally injured at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing in Dunrieth Saturday afternoon, were drawn up by a special committee from the board and read at the funeral services, which were held this afternoon at Shiloh church, north of Mays.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Latell of Indianapolis and burial took place in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Members of the county board of education, with the exception of John C. Power of Anderson, who was unable to attend, attended the funeral in a body and were accompanied by Birney D. Farthing, county superintendent of schools; Phil Wilk, county auditor; James Miller, county attendance officer, and Samuel H. Young, county commissioner.

Mr. Power was unable to serve as a member of the resolutions committee and George Hardesty, trustee of Orange township, was appointed in his place. Other members of the committee are: Jesse Brooks of Union township, chairman, J. Hampton Reeves of Posey and Henry W. Beckner of Jackson. The resolutions adopted are as follows:

In Behalf of Our Friend, Charles V. Griffin—

Whereas, our friend and co-worker Charles V. Griffin has suddenly been taken from among us by an untimely death, and whereas, though our association and friendship as County Board of Education had been only of a few weeks duration, yet the intimate relation held with him during that time makes it highly befitting that we recover our appreciation of him; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the wisdom, inspiration and service, which he had so kindly offered will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved, That the sudden removal of such a friend and member from our Board, leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply felt by all members and friends of the Board, and will prove a serious loss to the community, as well as township and county.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy with the bereaved wife of the deceased, the relatives and friends of Charles, we express an earnest hope that even so great a loss to us may be overruled for good by Him who knows best.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the records of the Board of Education, a copy printed in the county paper, and a copy given to the bereaved wife.

WOULD HAVE BIBLE READ IN SCHOOLS

Reading Of Ten Verses Every

Minority Report Of Budget Committee Recommends Limit On Reformatory Appropriation

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16.—Ten verses of the Bible would be read in every school of the state every morning before regular educational exercises are begun, under the provisions of a bill introduced in the legislature today by Representative Livingston of Bruceville, a coal miner. It would forfeit licenses of teachers failing to obey its provisions.

Others bills presented to the legislature included:

1.—Eugenic measures requiring people to have health certificates before marrying, introduced in the house by Dr. J. N. Hurty, former secretary of the state board of health.

2.—Dunes park bill appropriating $500,000 for the purchasing of not less than 1,500 acres of dune land in the Calumet by the conservation department and two members of the legislature introduced by Senators Brown and Hill.

3.—Repealing the act establishing joint commissions with the state of Illinois for the construction of a harbor in Lake county, introduced by Senator Hays.

The father of any child born out of wedlock who fails to support it or pay expenses of medical attention to the mother at birth would be liable to a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment, included in a bill introduced in the house by Miss Elizabeth Rainey.

Giving the state board of agriculture power to negotiate loans by Representative Thomas.

Recommendations that the appropriation for completion of the new reformatory at Pendleton be limited to $750,000 instead of $2,000,000 as asked by Governor McCray and that numerous other reductions be made in the state's expenses were contained in a minority report of the budget committee submitted to Governor McCray today.

The report was signed by Senator Walter S. Chambers and Representative John W. Kitch, democrat members of the committee.

"We cannot reconcile ourselves to the appropriation of $2,000,000 in

For Party Nominations Withdrawn in Senate

BILL PENDING IN THE HOUSE

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16.—Efforts to repeal the Indiana primary election law were abandoned today in the legislature.

Senator Penrod of Loogootee, a republican, withdrew his repeal bill which has reposed in committee since its introduction.

The measure met with a storm of opposition from friends of the primary system who rallied to its rescue when repeal was first threatened.

A repeal bill is still pending in the house but it may also be withdrawn by the author.

Governor McCray, United States Senator James E. Watson and other G. O. P. party leaders were reported to have urged the repeal. It was also approved by democratic party leaders, but both parties were bombarded with complaints and protests from members within their own ranks and some women of the state who declared their enfranchisement would be lost if the system of nominating party candidates was restored to conventions.

Conduct Exchange in Effort to Reach County Quota

TOTAL RECEIPTS $1,762.14

While Sales Increase $179.12 in
Show Loss

A final report on the Christmas Seals campaign, made public today, reveals that $1,762.14 was realized from the sale of Seals and Health Bonds in Rush county, which is about $38.00 short of the county quota of $1,800.00, and in order to make the allotment, the Psi Iota sorority, which was in charge of the sale will hold an exchange next Saturday.

Contributions of food to the exchange will not be restricted to members of the sorority but will be welcome from anyone who is interested in seeing Rush county maintain its past record and raise its quota in the Seals campaign. Those who wish to assist in the effort may notify Mrs. Alfred Norris and members of the sorority will call for food that is to be given for the exchange.

A compilation of the 1922 record shows that Posey and Anderson townships were reversed in the last campaign; Posey taking the lead away from Anderson township with receipts amounting to $62.10. Anderson township was second, however, with sales amounting to $58.58.

The success of the campaign in Posey, according to the township chairman, was due largely to the efforts of Miss Marian Titsworth in the Arlington school. She conducted contests among the school children which served to stimulate the sales.

Mrs. Edna Miller Seeks To Recover
Damages For Alleged Alienation

Mind Against Her

A law suit, involving daughter-in-law against her parents-in-law, with the demand for $10,000 judgement, got underway this morning in the circuit court, with Mrs. Edna Miller as plaintiff, and Burton and Myrtle Miller, defendants, the cause of action being for alleged alienation of affections.

The plaintiff, who before her marriage was Edna Hardin, daughter of Joe Hardin of Posey township, married Virgil Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Miller, farmers of Walker township, and the plaintiff alleges that her separation from her husband was caused by the father and mother of her husband.

She maintains that they "poisoned" their son against her, and caused them to become separated, and that because of the interference with their married life, she was humiliated suffered mental agony and disgrace, and that the affections of her husband were alienated.

The jury which was secured to try the case, is composed of Walter Crull, Fred Martin, Ed F. Moore, E. A. Sears, Roy Hall, Oliver Earnest, Jake Wynn, Will Morris, Gilbert Cooley, Jeff Leisure, Ed L. Reeve and George Seeley.

The case was expected to require at least two days for trial, as many witnesses were summoned by each side. Mrs. Miller, the plaintiff, was the

Fan-like Area—Germans at
Buer Stone Invaders

(By United Press)
Paris, Jan. 16.—Official announcement of the occupation of Dortmund by French troops was made today. The French line was further advanced to Horde. First military requisitions of coal were made this morning.

General Maginot reported to the cabinet official details of the trouble at Bochum at 7 o'clock last night.

"In rioting between German citizens and communists," Maginot reported, "one person was killed. Later a crowd of two thousand attacked French troops. The latter were forced to fire. One German was killed and two wounded by the volley. No soldiers were hurt. Drastic measures to prevent further rioting are in force."

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Jan. 16.—French troops in the Ruhr pushed further forward over a fan-shaped area today and it is believed the invaders will extend their occupation beyond the river Lippe as far as Hamm.

The outer area of the occupied area reached this forenoon passed through Reckhausen, Herin, Castrop and Bercham. Complete occupation of Dortmund was expected to be announced at any moment.

Germans at Buer stoned French troops as the latter marched into the town.

The French general in command ordered his soldiers to shoot if the attack was repeated. The police chief was ordered punished for the outbreak.

Uprisings throughout West Phalia and the Ruhr were feared momentarily as the temper of both invaders and civilians became uglier with an increasing number of incidents such as this. Agitation was under way in Bavaria to create a new "anwohnerwehr," (citizen guards), hitherto forbidden by the allies.

tion

ADDRESS TO ROTARY CLUB

The need of vision and foresight, a confidence in the future, and faith in one's fellowman were emphasized as necessary requisites to get on in the world and do the utmost possible to better civilization, the Rev. E. Richard Edwards of Logansport told Rotarians at their regular weekly luncheon today at the Social club.

The Rev. Mr. Edwards is here conducting special meetings at the Main Street Christian church. He asserted, in his brief but very impressive talk, that men need only two motives, really, in order to accomplish the best results in their chosen work—something to reach out after and something to get away from.

Illustrating with a story that a dog can only go half way into the woods, until he is coming out, the speaker said that prospects were fast growing better and that "we" were coming out to a greater era and a better and improved civilization.

Other guests present at the meeting were the Rev. L. E. Brown, pastor of the Main Street Christian church; Rush G. Budd of Newcastle, formerly of this city; Donald McInish of Indianapolis, and Lowell M. Green, Jr., of this city.

MOB HANGS STRIKER TO RAILROAD TRESTLE

Outgrowth of Attempt at Harrison,

NO ARRESTS AFTER HANGING

(By United Press)
Harrison, Ark., Jan. 16.—A mob of one thousand angry residents of Harrison hung E. G. McGregor, a striking railroad shop worker today from a high trestle near here. The mob sought to drive striking shop workers from the city following a campaign of sabotage against the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad.

The posse visited McGregor's home and demanded he surrender. His reply was a revolver shot which wounded one of their number. McGregor escaped from his home in a hailstorm of bullets, but was overtaken near the city limits. The mob left his body hanging from the trestle and it was not cut down for several hours.

Authorities had made no arrests during the morning although the mob continued to mill through the streets, rounding up strikers for questioning in connection with recent burning of bridges on the road.

NEW LIQUOR BILLS FOR LAW MAKERS

Six Measures Presented All Of Which Aim To Make Indiana Drier, By Better Laws

INCLUDE STIFFER PENALTIES

First Offense Also Includes Jail Sentence Intoxicated Auto Drivers Bill In Hopper

Indianapolis, Jan. 16. —Drinkers of hip liquor in Indiana looked toward the legislature today and sighed. In an effort to make Indiana drier, the reformers have presented six bills to the law makers. They carry the endorsement and warranted the active support of the Indiana Anti Saloon League.

"I don't know of any other measure which the Anti-Saloon League will have introduced in the legislature said E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the league.

"The penalties must be stiffer. There are too many ways to evade officials and too many violators get by. Then penalties must be high enough to touch violators who have cleaned up fortunes in their illicit business.

About eight percent as much liquor is being sold now as before prohibition became effective, he said.

"Now the liquor comes in by satchel and by truck load," Shumaker declared. "It used to come by train load."

The bills now pending in the legislature aimed at liquor drinkers and bootleggers are aimed to make violations of the prohibition law punishable as felonies instead of misdemeanors. They provide:

1. A fine of $50 to $1,000 and imprisonment of not more than one year for possessing liquor containing wood alcohol.

2. A fine of $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment of one to five years for owning or operating a still.

3. Transportation of even a quart of liquor a felony punishable by imprisonment of one to five years and a fine of not more than $1,000.

4. Drunken automobile drivers shall be fined $200 to $500 for first offense and imprisoned for two to five years for second offense.

5. Makes a 30 day sentence on the penal farm compulsory for first offense bootleggers, adding a fine of $200 to $500.

6. Making it a felony to transport liquor in any vehicle that is mortgaged or not owned by the driver.

Bootleggers who have customers among the wealthy, used their influence to defeat the measure.

It is placed at the top of the "Slope," which leads down to Folkestone Harbor; and it is estimated that during the war some ten million soldiers—British, Canadian, Anzac, and Americans—marched across the spot, on their way to embark for the front. According to Halksworth Wheeler, F. R. P. ## CAPT. SKIPWITH TO FACE CHARGES

PROBE BACK TO DIRECT CAUSE

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 16—Charges, providing capital punishment for conviction will be brought against Captain J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan, and other members of raiding parties, as a result of the investigation of the Morehouse parish reign of terror, state officials declared today.

"The plan is to bring a charge of house-breaking at night against men who entered the home of Lon Brad-dock and seized him on a charge of bootlegging without a warrant," Attorney General A. V. Coco declared today. The charge carries the death penalty in this state.

Charges against others on similar grounds may be expected, Coco said.

With this announcement the state planned today to shift the investigation back to the direct cause of the probe, the brutal murders of Watt Daniel and Thomas F. Richards by a hooded mob last August.

DRASTIC STEPS TO PREVENT RIOTING

Rhenish west Phalia's mining region, representing about three fourths of the whole German out-pit. This will take French troops into the heart of the west Phalia region.

The first bloodshed of the occupation at Rochem where French troops shot down German civilians yesterday, killing one and wounding others is feared in Berlin to be but preliminary to further casualties throughout the occupation zone.

Reports of the shooting at Bochum yesterday are conflicting. Some reports say there was a clash in the streets between German communists and re-actionaries, not directed against the French, who either mistook the character of the demonstration or considered they had to take over the duty of restoring order when local police proved useless.

Just as this first sign of rising tide of temper among the invaders is believed to presage serious trouble for civilian populations of the Ruhr so are the bitter feelings of the German citizens cropping out. These were indicated when Germans at Steele tore down a French military flag and shredded it to ribbons. The mayor of the town was forced to answer for the insult.

It is freely predicted that inside a month the bloodiest guerilla warfare will devastate the Ruhr valley. Especially will this be inevitable Germans say if the French invader endeavor to force the miners to "slave labor."

The German government is apparently adamant on the subject of withholding coal deliveries from France. It was permitted to be known today that the Cuno administration will not negotiate with the French on this point as long as the Ruhr is occupied. As the French have made it clear, occupation of the Ruhr is to force satisfactory negotiation and coal deliveries, the situation seems completely deadlocked.

The question of coal deliveries and requisitions was expected to reach a final show-down this afternoon at a meeting called by General De-goutte at Dusseldorf.

Operators and mine-workers were to attend. It was understood the French general, commanding the Ruhr army of occupation, wished to explain Premier Poincare's requisition orders to the Germans at first hand.

Chancellor Cuno held a long conference this morning with Herr Stutz, German coal commissioner but no communique was issued. Later Stutz in a statement to the United Press, expressed confidence the operators of the Ruhr would obey his orders, and make no coal deliveries to France or Belgium. Lacking official information as to Poincare's orders and plans, Stutz is puzzled as to whether the French intend to seize the Ruhr mines and endeavor to operate them with guards at the pit heads, or to seize money destined for the workers. In either case, he predicts quick stagnation should the French alter normal transport.

"Under the present extravagant plans, it would take still another $1,000,000 to complete the situation and possibly $2,000,000 making a total cost of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 when the reformatory is completed."

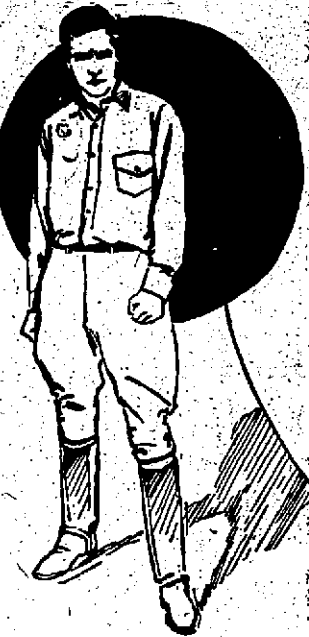

The report declares that tile floors have been provided for engine rooms and that floors have been elevated to accommodate pipes. At declares the industrial buildings will cost $150,000 each as compared with $25,000 for similar building at the state prison. The reformatory, the report declared, is costing $3 a square foot of floor space while the state prison cost forty cents. The minority also referred sarcastically to the $80,000 cost of plans and specifications and $30,000 paid the architect for supervision.

Other features of the report were: 1.—Refusal to sign the budget for banking and insurance departments which it declared could be combined with the auditor's office at a saving of $75,000 a year.

2.—Recommendation that the offices of reporter and clerk of the supreme court be combined, as recommended also by Governor McCray.

Tax Free Securities

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has advanced a course of action which is sure to meet with the approval of the rank and file of the American people when he urges that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the state legislatures barring the further tax exemption of securities by congress.

During the war there was an excuse for the exemption from income and surtaxes of the various government bonds floated for the purpose of providing funds with which to carry on the conflict. Tax exemption provided a means of making an issue of government bonds especially attractive and their ready sale at a high figure was assured.

The coming of peace has changed all this. There is no longer any excuse for permitting the issuance of tax free securities. The exigencies of the war period are over and the only effect of issuing tax exempt securities now is to encourage tax dodging. By means of tax exempt securities a man of wealth is able to so invest his money that he is untouched by the government taxing machinery, while a less fortunate individual, working on a salary, is obliged to pay to the federal treasury a stated portion of his income. Tax exempt securities had their place in the wartime scheme of things. Their place has disappeared, however, and if congress senses the will of the people aught it will act on Secretary Mellon's recommendation.

Is It On The Wane?

Is the Christmas spirit waning? It probably is.
This would be a beautiful world if we could continue the holiday spirit from Christmas to Christmas, and from the beginning of life to the end. But that would banish grafting, and thievery, and thuggery, and murder, and scandal, and all of the other cherished ills that afflict mankind.

Yes, the Christmas spirit is waning—it is disappearing—it will soon give place to the one with which we are all more or less familiar.
We can not be angels without wings, and life is too short to grow them.

One of Opportunities

The new year will be one of opportunities.
Business will be good. Some even say it will be exceptional.
Agriculture will forge ahead.
New inventions and ideas will be developed.
Transportation facilities will be improved and enlarged.
The interests of the shipping industry will be promoted.
Factories will hum with life.
The builder's hammer will be noisy with renewed activity.
Everybody will have an opportunity to work.
And saving will become easier.
Somewhere in this scheme of things there is a place for you.
Hunt it—fill it—do something for others, as well as for self.
By so doing, you will justify your existence.

Mostly Personal

(St. Louis Times)
The most aggressive of Europe's political powers—which oddly enough have for some time now been also the most earnest pleaders for financial aid from outside the old world—have differing views as to how help should be given.

France wants aid for herself, but deprecates possible efforts at rejuvenating German finances. Germany will accept favor from any land but particularly from quarters which shall not tie her up more securely to serving France in the future. Great Britain would like to have her debts to America forgotten, but it is doubtful whether English philanthropy is equal to viewing with equanimity so much aiding of France as might harmonize with the latter country's Russia demands that she be given a say how other lands there shall be dealt with. Unless this is done, Russia will withhold from offending nations her rich trade—to be made rich in the future.

All Europe, lately warswept and still so needy of financial succor, is voicing two cries: That aid shall speedily come, and that it shall come according to the specific program offered by each pleading power.

It is a state of affairs almost impossible to comprehend to the degree of evolving a satisfactory solution: France begging for American aid at the same time speaks bitterly of rumors that America plans to do thus and so. It is no what France desires this country to undertake. And everywhere else we turn, the situation is much the same. How can contentment be brought to warring elements who cannot be content if all are served with equal justice?

BALL PLAYERS TO SUFFER

Players, Citing Poor Business as Reasons For It

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, Jan. 16.—Business wasn't so good around the major league circuits last year. The pennant winning clubs and several of the western teams made money, but the usual bumper crops of cash weren't general by any means. At least the magnates would have that believed.

The result is very few raises for the poor ball players. Several of the club owners will ask their athletes to suffer along on a small stipend until things "get better". Others who can afford their usual payroll may do the same thing to feel out the new union.

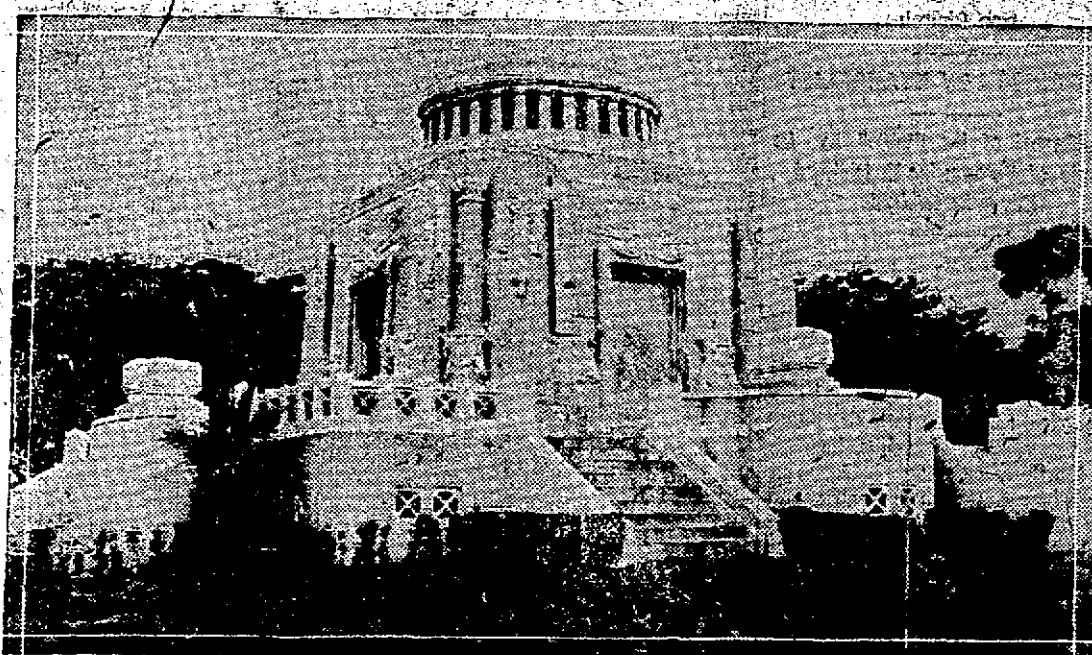

Whatever the reason, the wave of economy which has brought the majors and the minors to the point of open war no doubt will result in a great epidemic of holdouts as soon as the athletes get their contracts. The club owners are waiting until the last minute to send out new contracts to prevent the union members getting together and comparing notes on the various salaries offered.

The usual threats of retiring to private business instead of playing ball are being made. Jake Daubert, Cincinnati Red infielder, has officially announced himself as ready to enter the coal business if he can't get $10,000 a year and George Mogridge, Washington pitcher, is looking for other business.

Dutch Reuther, accused by Squire Ebbets of being the prime mover in the baseball player's union, is holding out for $12,000 and Zach Wheat, Andy High and several others on the Brooklyn Robins are not content with what they have been drawing.

John McGraw seldom has trouble with his players. The Giants are generous and the boys are all satisfied with their places. The Yanks are the most liberal spenders in baseball, but the Yankee owners are going to reduce salaries this year. Colonels Ruppert and Huston are not hard-up but they are going to take a crack that way against several of the fancy-priced players who looked like ten cents a dozen last season and during the world's series.

A HOSPITAL FOR SICK FANS

The Columbus high school athletic board is planning a basketball clinic, to be held in that city in the near future, provided that there is enough interest taken in the proposed affair. As Hittin' 'em understands the thing, it is proposed to stage a basketball game, and all of the fine points of the game are to be explained to the fans who are on hand. For instance, when a foul is called, the referee is to announce and explain why he called it, and all of the rules are to be explained as the game is in progress. The real idea is to educate the fans and school officials. Thirty letters have been sent to towns surrounding Columbus, asking them to send representatives to the clinic.

WE BET THEY WOULDN'T LAST 5 MINUTES

An enthusiastic reader of Hittin' 'em and Missin' 'em, hailing from southern Rush county, offers the following: "We suggest a team made up of Rush county coaches. There is Jones of Rushville, weight over 200; Shell of Carthage, 185 pounds; Beasley of Milroy 230 pounds; Means of Moscow, 230 pounds and McPherson of Raleigh, 210 pounds." Hittin' 'em agrees that the combination looks good on paper, but just how good they'd look on the floor is a different proposition. If you can get them together, we'd like to see 'em practice.

SHOOTIN' AT HITTIN' 'EM

Another fan, coming from the same locality, and who signs his message, "Shootin' at Hittin' 'em" warns us to look out for the county dark horse. He says "it hails from the banks of Flat Rock. Yes Moscow high has finally started." He also adds the following: "Suppose Talbert of Webb and Gosnell of Moscow were on the same team; then add Cowan of Milroy."

WOULDN'T LET 'EM WIN TWELVE STRAIGHT

There must be something in that Moscow stuff. They didn't have much trouble in stopping Mt. Auburn Saturday night, and defeated them 28 to 16. Mt. Auburn had a chance to make it their twelfth straight, but Moscow wouldn't let 'em.

HERE IS ROBINSON AGAIN

Robinson, center on the Connersville team, is sure poison for all teams that they meet. In the game Saturday with Brookville, Connersville came out ahead in easy fashion, 44 to 20. Robinson caged 7 field goals, and scored 11 times from the foul line.

You Rushville basket squad better lay for that man Friday night, or else you will find yourself in the small end of a big score.

Richmond entertained several teams at an all day tourney last Saturday. Guess who won? Richmond of course, and they defeated Liberty 38 to 8 in the final game.

It won't be so easy to guess who will win the Rush county tourney, scheduled for Rushville February 3, according to all of the "dark horse" timber which is being flung into the ring.

Coach Staggs of Anderson,
Has a speedy bunch,
And take it from us

SOMETHING YOU DIDN'T KNOW MOSCOW HAS A SECOND TEAM, WHICH ALSO IS WINNING SOME GAMES.

Phillips of Rushville, is the scoring man, counting 26 points in the last two games played, in which the locals had totalled 50 points.

Rushville has one thing to be thankful for at least. We are not like Indianapolis, and have four high schools which fail to check up victories.

LET YOUR GRADES COME FIRST

Friday ends the first semester, and report cards will be given out. Examinations will be under way Wednesday and Thursday, and the line-up of the two local teams may be changed. Some of the players who fell below in their grades might be back in the game Friday, and some of the old players might be out. Study hard, gang, your studentship is worth twice as much as your playing ability.

We're gonna pick Anderson.

WINNERS SHOW SUPERIORITY

The Moscow high school basketball team ruined the chances for a twelfth win for Mt. Auburn, Saturday night, when they defeated the Shelby county team, 28 to 16. The game was a battle from the start, but Moscow showed marked superiority throughout. I. Hungerford and Tillison played a defensive game, often times adding a punch to a newly constructed offense.

An entirely new combination was used by Moscow and points by Gosnell, Coleman and B. Hungerford soon put the game away. At half time the score was 16 to 9. In a preliminary game the Moscow second team defeated Waldron seconds, 15 to 7. Moscow journeys to Newport Friday, and will probably play Sandusky at Blue Ridge Saturday night.

Substitutions, B. Hungerford for Crane; Field goals, Coleman 3, Tillison, Gosnell 7; B. Hungerford 2 Iron, Wertz, 2, Chesser 3; foul goals, Gosnell 2 Iron 4.

REPRESENT THREE PRESENT DAY TYPES

Persons Cured by Miracles in Bible Days Subject of Sermon at Christian Church

COMPARISON BY EVANGELIST

"The Gospel of the Fields" to be Topic of Sermon by E. Richard Edwards Tonight

A fine Monday night audience enjoyed another one of the excellent sermons at the Main Street Christian church by the Rev. E. Richard Edwards on "Three Miracles Representing Three Types."

The first was the man, afflicted with palsy, rendering him helpless and hopeless only as help came from without. It was the work, and faith of his friends that brought him to the healing touch and power of Jesus.

"So today many are palsied by the power of sin and must be helped to Christ," said the evangelist. "It is our duty to bring them to Him that they may be healed of the paralysis of sin. The second was the man with a withered hand. He was fifty per cent efficient. His case was not as bad as the other yet he needed the healing ministry of Jesus."

"This man represented the moral man out of Christ. Such a man was Cornelius of the Bible, a good, devout, praying, alms-giving man but was not saved and was instructed by Peter under the guidance of the Holy Spirit to tell him what he must do in order to be saved."

"The third type was the woman bowed with an infirmity for many years who received the healing touch from Christ the great Physician. So today there are many who are so bowed beneath the burdens of the world that they cannot stand erect and look up to behold the beauties and blessings of their Heavenly Father."

Tonight the theme of the sermon will be "The Gospel of the Fields." B. F. Miller rendered a very beautiful solo in his usual acceptable manner last night. Tonight Mrs. Alva Eakins will sing.

TODAY IN MUSIC

The Wagnerian opera festival with its entire company imported from Germany for the purpose met a serious reversal when the musicians' union protested against the bringing to this country of the German orchestra. Accordingly, the plans were changed, and Leo Blech, chief conductor, sent one of his assistants to New York six weeks in advance of the opening performance for the purpose of recruiting and training an American orchestra. Blech also sent over a number of instruments required in the performance of some of the Wagner scores and which are not found in the usual symphony orchestra. The musicians' union pointed out that there are hundreds of capable orchestra players out of work and it would be base discrimination against American musicians to bring over a complete German orchestra. The singers are not affected by this dictum, however.

Rossini's opera "William Tell" has been "revived" at the Metropolitan after an absence of many years. A special set of scenery was painted by a prominent Italian artist and rehearsals were long in progress to make this presentation of Rossini's popular opera one of grandeur. The leading roles were sung by Giuseppe Danise, in the title role, and Messrs. Martinelli, Mardones and Didur. Rosa Ponselle and Marie Sandelius assumed the chief feminine parts.

Ernest Hutcheson, the pianist, is fast coming into his own as one of the really serious musicians. He is now giving in New York a series of fortnightly recitals, each one devoted to the works of some great master. He has thus far given Bach, Beethoven and Chopin programmes, and the attendance has been surprisingly good, which may show that after all it is the music that appeals to the public rather than the interpreter.

Kuppenheimer GOOD CLOTHES

Overcoat Prices Cut to the Bone

This has been the biggest overcoat season of our career. We never sold so many overcoats in one season. Wishing to make a clean sweep, we have slashed the price of every remaining coat unmercifully.

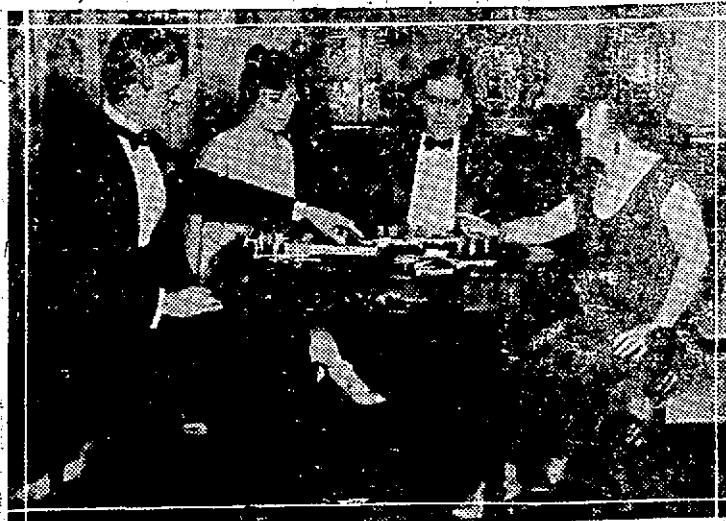

Not a coat in the house is a carried over garment. This is not an attempt to put over a lot of past seasons goods. All these coats are in the latest models and materials and of the best makes. In many cases there is but a single garment of the lot remaining. We wish to close them out quick. If you doubt our statements, come in and see our prices. They will convince you we are in earnest. See our windows—they tell the tale.

Prices as follows: $11.00, $13.50, $19.75, $16.50, $18.75, $21.50, $24.50, $28.75, $31.50 — Coats that sold up to $60.00

These prices will prevail until closing time Saturday, January 20th. These prices are for CASH ONLY.

SOCIETY LEADERS BRING CHINESE GAME TO NEW YORK

JOHN N. MEYER SUCCUMBS

Funeral For Farmer Will Be Held At Glenwood Wednesday At 2 P. M.

John N. Meyer, aged fifty-nine years and seven months, expired at the late residence five miles southeast of Glenwood Monday morning at 6:30 o'clock, following an illness of a complication of diseases.

The survivors are the widow, four children, eight grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. Kate Schott, of Indianapolis, and one brother, Frank Meyer of this city. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the Glenwood Christian church and burial will take place at the Orange cemetery.

The Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's Methodist church will serve lunch from eleven to one o'clock Friday January 19, at the church. The public is invited.

PLANS FOR REVIVAL TO START JANUARY 29

TO CONTINUE FOR 2 WEEKS

The First United Presbyterian church has arranged for two weeks of cottage prayer meetings to be held among the homes of various church members, in preparation for the revival meetings to be held in the church beginning January 29. The program for this week will be as follows:

Wednesday evening at the home of John Little, 1029 North Benjamin street, with the Rev. E. G. McKibben leader; and at Dr. Paxton's home, 333 West Seventh street, Mrs. Inez Craig leader.

Thursday evening will be the regular prayer meeting service at the church, the services beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

On Friday evening one of the prayer services will be held at the home of Steven Boyer, 837 North Oliver street, the leader being the Rev. E. G. McKibben; and at the home of Mrs. Inez Craig, 834 North Harrison street, Miss Anna Wait leader.

The public is invited to attend these services and especially the members of the church are requested to attend. The program for next week's cottage meetings will be announced later.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

At The Mystic Today

Mark Twain's humor is largely based on incongruity and contrast. "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" of which the special William Fox film version is coming to the Mystic today is crammed with examples. It is said to be the funniest thing Twain ever wrote, yet it contains a carefully reasoned argument.

Mark never was at a loss for an answer. One day he was telling a group of friends about a wonderful lake he had seen in Colorado.

"The water is so clear," he said, "that you could see a ten-cent piece on the bottom at a depth of one hundred fathoms."

A stony silence followed. Mark glanced around.

Mystery Picture At Princess

The demand for mystery pictures is steadily increasing. They offer motion picture fans delicious thrills and expectancy and in these respects "The Young Diana," a Cosmopolitan creation released by Paramount starring Marion Davies which will be the feature at the Princess Theatre again today, ranks among the best productions of the current season.

In this picture Miss Davies is seen as a young English girl whose love romance with a titled naval officer seemingly is forever shattered. Life loses interest to her and she develops into a spinster whose future is dreary and hopeless. But she goes to Switzerland, where she encounters a mysterious alchemist who induces her to subject herself to a deadly experiment with the result that she emerges from the ordeal a wonderful beauty and soon becomes the rage of Europe. Then in a mysterious way she encounters her former sweetheart, and what happens later is told thrillingly in a series of remarkable scenes. Naturally, she finds love and happiness at last.

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poisonings that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they head you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY—at least two tablespoonfuls daily, in chronic cases with every meal!

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of "getting away" with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

In Addition Three Silver Cups Valued at $90.00 Will be Offered in County Corn Show

PREMIUM LIST ANNOUNCED

Charles E. Watkins of Muncie and Charles J. Patterson of Tipton Will Speak Second Day

Prizes aggregating $346.00 in cash, in addition to three silver cups valued at $90.00, will be awarded at the annual Rush county corn show, which will be held in the court house here Thursday and Friday, February 1 and 2, it was announced Monday evening following the meeting of the premium list committee.

It was also announced that C. E. Troyer of LaFontaine, Wabash county, Indiana, corn king two years ago, had been selected to judge the corn in the Rush county show and award the premiums.

The premiums are announced in another column on this page.

There will be no program on the first day, aside from the judging of the corn, but on the second two speakers of ability, who are well known to Rush county farmers, will give addresses in the morning and afternoon.

The speaker at the morning session will be Charles J. Patterson of Tipton who is very popular among farmers here because of his keen insight into the farming business and his ready wit and ability as a public speaker. Mr. Patterson has addressed

Valuable Marl Deposits Found in Porter County

Some very valuable marl deposits have just been located in Porter County adjacent to the Lincoln Highway by County Agent A. Z. Archart. A test showed 98% neutralizing value for acid soil. Within a few rods from the point a most interesting circumstance developed. On muck soil where corn showed a possible 50 bushel production the soil showed absolutely neutral to the acidity test. Within a few feet from this point very definitely defined areas showed a need of several tons of lime per acre.

42 Members in Baby Beef Club in Randolph County

What is said to be the largest beef calf club in Indiana was started recently at Winchester with 42 Randolph County boys and girls as members. Nineteen Herefords and 23 Shorthorns were distributed for feeding until next September when the contest ends with a show. The calves averaged 450 pounds and were a nice uniform lot, all sired by registered animals and out of purebred or high grade dams. County Agent R. A. Fields and Jesse L. Pike manager of the Winchester stock yards, will supervise the feeding efforts of the boys and girls.

HOLSTEIN HEIFER HAS GOOD RECORD

Junior Two Year Old In Purdue Dairy Herd Produced 16,875.8 Pounds Of Milk In Year

QUALIFIED FOR REGISTRY

Significant Part Of Record Is Example It Furnishes Breeding For Increased Production

A Junior two-year-old Holstein heifer, Purdue Segis Bakkor Hagerfeld 591604, in the Purdue University dairy herd, recently finished a very good milk and butterfat record, producing in 365 days, 16,875.8 pounds of milk and 544.8 pounds of butterfat—equivalent to 654 pounds of butter. This would be a good production record for a mature cow and is,

BETTER DAYS FOR THE FARMER AHEAD

One Big Idea Expressed At Annual Farmers' Short Course At Purdue Last Week

SPEAKERS EMPHASIZE IT

Although Attendance Was Short Of Last Year, 75 Counties Of State Were Represented

There are better days ahead apparently for the farming interests of Indiana, during the new year, than at any time for the last three years. This was one big idea expressed by farmers and farmers' wives, economists, educators, and others on the program at the annual farmers' short course at Purdue University Jan. 8 to 12. The note of optimism was sounded more frequently at this course than at any of the last few years, because there were more figures on the prices of farm products, especially corn, with which to back up the statements.

The short course was very successful and attracted men and women from seventy-five counties and six different states besides Indiana. The total enrollment however was not quite up to last year when a record of 1,500 was established. A heavy snowfall in many parts of the state cut this down. The state corn and potato shows were held during the week, along with annual meetings of the Indiana livestock and dairy organizations, corn growers, vegetable growers, and home economics associations.

In the state corn show, L. M. Vog-

COW TESTING IS VERY IMPORTANT

ASSOCIATIONS ORGANIZED

Each Year More Farmers Realize Value of Testing Association as Basis for Herd Improvement

The study of production records of large numbers of cows, made possible by the work of the many cow-testing associations that have been organized in almost every part of the country, has brought out a grist of information on the possibilities of dairy-cow improvement and on the efficiency of various methods and practices. The records of many thousands of cows have been gone over in the last few years by the United States Department of Agriculture.

From the lowest-producing group of cows to the highest-producing group every jump of 50 pounds in annual butterfat production was accompanied by an increase of about $10 in income over cost of feed. The more fat produced, the bigger this income. A few heavy producers are better than a larger number of light yielders.

The average production of the 21,234 cows whose 12-month records have been studied was 6,077 pounds of milk and 248 pounds of butterfat, or about 50 percent more than the average of all the dairy cows in this country. The records show that selection of animals and better methods of feeding raise average production rapidly during the first year or two that the cow-testing association is in operation, but the figures for subsequent years show small gains. This is proof enough that there is still much room for improvement in the breeding of cow-testing association cows.

Each year more farmers realize the value of the testing association as a basis for herd improvement. On July 1, 1922, there were in operation 513 associations, including 12,458 herds and 215,321 cows, as compared with 452 associations the previous year. Wisconsin and Minnesota, two of the greatest dairy States, showed great gains in testing associations. During the year the number in Wisconsin grew from 103 to 127, and in Minnesota from 23 to 37.

HOLSTEIN HEIFER HAS GOOD RECORD

In making this record, this heifer qualified for the Holstein-Friesian Advanced Registry and it is interesting to observe that she made over twice the amount of butter fat required to make her eligible for this Registry.

She did not start her year's work with an unusually large production nor did she produce a large amount of milk for any short period but showed great persistency throughout the year and actually produced, during the month of her test, more milk than she had produced during any of the first six months. She indicated the very desirable characteristic of continuing high production throughout the entire year.

Through a considerable part of the time she was on test was of the spring and summer, pasture was not depended on to furnish much of the succulent part of her feed but she was fed hay, grain and silage throughout the year. She received a ration of alfalfa, hay, corn silage and grain mixture made up of four parts ground corn, two parts ground oats two parts bran, one part cottonseed meal and one part linseed oil and she was fed this grain mixture at the rate of one pound for each three and one-half to four and one-half pounds of milk produced per day.

But the most remarkable and the most significant part of this record is the excellent example it furnishes of "up-breeding" or breeding for increased production. The following figures show the production in 365 days of this heifer's granddam as a two-year-old, that of her dam as a two-year-old and her own production as a two-year-old.

	Milk	Butterfat
Granddam	10561.2	321.2
Daughter	16875.8	544.8

From these figures it is seen that a big increase has been made in each generation and this in spite of the fact and that good production had been made by the dam and granddam for the production of the granddam as a two-year-old, is over twice the average production of milk cows in Indiana at the present time.

This heifer has recently freshened as a three-year-old and is producing 75 pounds or about nine gallons of milk per day. This good production would seem to indicate that she will continue to make proportional increases over the later milk and butterfat records of her dam and granddam.

Records of this kind and this record in particular, shows very clearly that the use of good sires, abundance

BETTER DAYS FOR THE FARMER AHEAD

Continued from Page One ler, of Hope, won grand sweepstakes honors on his ten ear sample of Johnson County white corn. His yield was better than 80 bushels to the acre for an 80 acre field, showing again that the famous Indiana show corn possess yielding ability second to none in the United States.

W. W. Stauffer, of Akron, the grand sweepstakes winner in the potato show, winning on a peck of Irish Cobblers, is one of the best potato growers in the state and has the state record for yield. He has an average of 305 bushels per acre for about ten acres each year for the last three years.

GIVE $2,670 TO HOSPITAL

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 16—Members of the Vincennes Rotary Club have subscribed a total of $2,670 to the building fund of the James Whitcomb Riley Hospital for Children, now under construction in Indianapolis as a memorial to the celebrated Hoosier poet and for the care and treatment of sick and crippled Indiana boys and girls. Edgar N. Haskins, city superintendent of schools, is the local club chairman. Rotary clubs throughout the state are active in behalf of the hospital movement.

BREEDING FOR 200 EGGS

Better breeding methods is one of the most important factors for increased egg production. In order to breed poultry at least two pens are desired, one of which will be kept for the breeders. The other pen should have in it pullets that are kept primarily for eggs.

Only birds that are fit physically should be used to perpetuate their desirable characters in their offspring. Sick, undersized, undeveloped and deformed birds should be discarded. Hens and males with bright eyes, long wide backs, deep bodies and showing refined femininity or strong masculinity are greatly desired for breeders.

Exercise is a fundamental necessity to insure maximum hatchability of eggs.

In order to limit and to enhance the value of the male 15 to 20 females of the Leghorn type, 10 to 15 of the Plymouth Rock type and 6 to 8 of the Brahma type should be mated to one male.

Richard Lieber States No Legislation Would Be Asked Of General Assembly In This Session

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16—Man has destroyed in twenty-five years what nature required a million years in building in Southern Indiana, Charles C. Deam, forester for the state department of conservation said today.

Down in the hill country of south-eastern part of the state, people settled down, cut the trees which abounded there and left the soil devoid of fertility, Deam said.

The trees, Deam said, obtained a great amount of nourishment from the air and deposit it in the form of dropping leaves. The roots help to hold the nourishment. This fertile deposit of surface soil was built up slowly this way by plants in a million years.

"But man came along with his broad axe and felled the trees", Deam continued. "He then took away the fertile surface in the form of vegetables and grain which he shipped and pasture on which he fed his livestock."

"The rain aided him also in washing away some of the fertile substances that the tree roots no longer held. This took man about twenty-five years."

"Now people are living on this land and are 'property poor' because of its unproductiveness."

"Thousands of acres are going to waste in this manner every year."

Deam advocated state action to reforest the hills which are not producing grain now, but Richard Lieber, director of the department indicated no legislation would be asked of the general assembly in this session.

WEED CHATS WITH FARMERS

(Purdue University Agricultural Extension Department)

By ALBERT A. HANSEN

Why does the farmer cultivate his land? Sounds like a foolish question, but perhaps the answer may be quite different from what you may suspect.

A few years ago the United States Department of Agriculture supervised a series of experiments designed to find an answer to this question. In each experiment, two similar plots of land were selected of the same size, soil type, etc. The seed bed was prepared in the usual manner, corn was planted and one plot was given the ordinary treatment characteristic of the locality in which grown. For instance here in Indiana the corn was cultivated about four or five times with an ordinary hoe cultivator. On the other plot, however, the land was not cultivated after seed bed preparation. Instead, the weeds were kept back by hand pulling, hoe-cutting or any other method that did not disturb the soil. How would you guess on the harvest? The surprising result was that in practically all cases the yield of the cultivated and uncultivated plots was the same. Over 100 experiments in 28 states were performed with corn and the average yield of the plots was practically the same. The experiments were continued for several years and still the same results were secured. Four of these experiments were performed in Indiana—three by farmers and one at Purdue. The four year average yield of the Purdue experiments was 57 bushels per acre on the cultivated plots and 56.3 bushels per acre on the uncultivated plots. The experiments were continued with other tillable crops and although the data has not been published, similar results were obtained.

What conclusion can we draw from all this work? The results indicate very strongly that after the preparation of the seed bed, the principal object of cultivation is the destruction of weeds. If this is true, then we should (1) regulate our cultivation according to the weed growth and not by the weather or any other standard and (2) we should design our cultivating implements to destroy the weeds.

We are hardly justified in making positive statements of so radical a nature when such statements are backed solely on plot experiments. When we can report results on several hundred experiments, where each experiment represents a good sized field and where all types of soil are included, then we will be ready to accept this new viewpoint. But the results of over 200 experiments are not to be ignored. Why not select two similar fields on your own farm and try the proposition out for your own satisfaction? The results may surprise you and save considerable work later on.

Reasons to Expect Better Things of Agriculture in '23

The farmer has every reason to expect still better things of agriculture in 1923, even though there are some dark spots, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace says in his survey of farming conditions for the present year. During the course of his remarks, he says:

There are still some dark spots. In some sections weather conditions were unfavorable and crops were short and farmers in these sections are having a very hard time of it. Freight rates are still too high, especially for those who must pay for a long haul to market.

Taxes are high, but this is largely due to the interest in local taxes, over which farmers themselves must exercise control.

There has been gratifying growth in farmers' cooperative marketing associations, and more of them are being organized on a sound business basis.

Aside from the help which has been given by legislation and by administration activities, strong economic forces are at work to restore a more normal relation between agriculture and other industries.

The peril in the agricultural depression is more keenly realized by other groups than ever before, and on every hand a sincere desire is being evidenced to do what can be done safely to help the farmer better his condition.

Everything considered, we have good reason to expect still better things for agriculture in the year 1923.

Your Part In A Big Business

During November the five Producers offices (figures from Fort Worth offices are not available) handled $4,743,871.66 worth of live stock. The value of the live stock handled by the sixth office, Fort Worth, will easily bring this amount to $5,000,000.

Producer supporters should be proud of a volume of business of this amount. There are not many concerns in Chicago, or in any of the other large cities, handling such volume. Producers offices are heading the list in volume of business at all of the markets where they are located, excepting Chicago, and St. Louis. (National Stock Yards, Illinois).

At Chicago, the Producers has been first in hogs for several weeks, and fourth in total business. At St. Louis, they have been running second.

The approximately five million dollars was entered upon 6,238 account sales, which would make an average of $760.48 per sale. We are glad to call attention to the fact that the average amount distributed to any one patron is $301.80 more than during September. The largest account sale was $6,808.98, and the smallest, exclusive of dead or crippled stock was $13.65. The total number of head handled is 246,105 and distributed among species as follows: Cattle, 10,949; calves, 8,258; hogs, 212,690; sheep, 14,208.

This total number of head of live stock handled by the Producers in one month, November, is almost equivalent to the total number of cattle received by the stock yards at Wichita, Kansas, during the entire year of 1921. If these animals were placed in cars, they would form a train a little more than 26 miles in length.

The printing and stationery used for letters and other records cost, during November, $1,768.81. To the stock yards at the five points, the producers paid $54,330.85, and as freight to the railroads, $161,482.22. The employees handling this business totaled 124, which makes one employee for every 1,985 animals handled.

Give consideration to the above figures, tell your friends about it and let them see the size of the business which is yours.

BOMB WRECKS STORE

Chicago, Jan. 16—Several persons were thrown from their beds here today when a dynamite bomb was exploded in the grocery store of Nathan Friend. The bomb wrecked the store. Damage was estimated at $1,500. Police could assign no motive for the bombing.

PULASKI FOLKS WEED OUT INFECTED BIRDS

One of the most forward steps which has ever been developed for the poultry interests in Pulaski County is the testing of breeding flocks to detect carriers of bacillary white diarrhoea. This comes as a forward step in the wake of three years of poultry records which have been running in the county. A large number of flocks have demonstrated their ability to heap the egg basket and now that this has been shown, the owners are going farther and through co-operation with the Veterinary Division of Purdue University, are taking blood samples from each hen and breeding cockerel in the flock. These samples are given the agglutination test for bacillary white diarrhoea. The division then sends the results back to the owners and also a copy to the county agent. The agent expects to be present when these infected hens are shipped so he can make affidavit to the fact that the reactors have been thrown out of the flock. In this way, those who buy hatching eggs from these flocks next spring can be assured of getting eggs that will hatch into chicks that are free from infectious white diarrhoea.

ORCHARDISTS SHOULD EXAMINE TREES NOW

URGE UNIFORM SPRAYING

Indianapolis, Ind. Jan. 16.—Scruggly branches as a rule are the ones missed in orchard spraying and for this reason it is frequently the case that anticipated results in fruit production are not obtained after extreme care apparently has been taken to spray against insect invasion and scale pests, declares Frank N. Wallace, entomologist for the state conservation department.

The season is here when orchardists should examine trees carefully and cut off branches, especially the tips of upper branches, if it appears they cannot be reached with sprays, Mr. Wallace says.

If all parts of the tree is sprayed uniformly there is little doubt but the crop will be augmented. Failure to spray scruggly branches leaves material upon which insects and scales may work to the detriment of production, he points out.

CASH AWARDS TO AMOUNT TO $348

Dressed many farmers' meetings in Rush county and he also lent his valuable assistance to the Rush County Farm Bureau in the membership campaign last December.

The speaker at the afternoon session will be Charles L. Watkins of Muncie, a social service worker who styles himself a "human engineer" and who has spoken in Rush county on many previous occasions, one of them at the Rush county chautauqua. Because of Mr. Watkins' wide appeal of farmers and his understanding of their problems, there was a universal demand that he be invited to speak at the corn show again this year, and he readily accepted the invitation.

The morning program on Friday will begin at 10:00 o'clock and will be held in the court house assembly room, and the afternoon program will begin at 1:00 o'clock.

The rules for the corn show provide that all corn entered for prizes shall be at the show by 10:00 a. m. of the first day, at which time the judging will begin.

There will be four classes this year—professional, county, township and junior, the first named having been added when the committees decided to open the competition to the world on the theory that Rush county farmers were not afraid to meet outside corn growers.

The cash prizes in the professional class amount to $81.00, in the county class $114.00, in the township class $81.00 and in the junior class $70.00. This does not include the $50.00 cup for the sweepstakes on the best ten ears, any color, or the $25.00 cup for the sweepstakes on the best single ear, any color, both of which are competed for annually.

A $15.00 silver cup was added to the junior class this year, to be competed for annually. It will be awarded as a sweepstakes prize for the best ten ears, any color.

entific and financial basis is a vital need at the present time. These problems may be best solved by a Short Course and Conference such as is planned and called for by the Indiana Beekeepers Association and the beekeepers of the state. The university authorities have been especially fortunate in securing some of the very best talent in the world," said Prof. J. J. Davis, head of the entomology department.

Dr. E. F. Phillips, an international authority on the handling of bees and in charge of the bee work for the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Geo. S. Demuth, Editor of "Gleanings in Bee Culture" and for many years a co-worker with Dr. Phillips will be present throughout the course to discuss the beekeepers' problems. Prof. H. F. Wilson, head of the entomology department of the University of Wisconsin and president of the American Honey Producers' Association, will also discuss problems of vital importance to every Indiana beekeeper. Others who are on the program include C. O. Yost, State Bee Inspector; W. A. Hunter, president of the Vigo County Beekeepers' Association; W. A. Price and J. J. Davis of the department of entomology, Purdue University. Besides the regular daily sessions, evening meetings will include an illustrated lecture by Prof. J. H. Skinner, Dean of the School of Agriculture, Purdue University, on Monday evening January 29, a beekeepers' banquet Tuesday evening and moving pictures Wednesday evening.
